British 2nd Army Runs Into Strong Enemy Resistance

Capture Village of Dieteren in Snow and Fog—Planes Grounded by Extreme Weather

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Paris, January 17 (AP).—The new British Second Army offensive north of Aachen ran into stiffening resistance, including German tanks, and was slowed today after the white-clad Tommies had advanced 1,000 yards through snow and fog and captured the village of Dieteren.

To the south, however, the American forces smashing at the enemy's vanishing Ardennes salient occupied Vielsalm and closed within four miles of the strategic communication centre of St. Vith.

The fighting was cloaked in almost indescribably bad weather, with icing conditions so severe that not a single United States tactical air unit was able to leave the ground. The only continental-based fighter-bombers able to see any action whatever were 150 R.A.F. planes which struck at transport targets in Northern Holland.

The British attack against the southern flank of the triangular German wedge between the Maas and the Roer Rivers continued to make some progress, but the total advance since the start Tuesday morning probably has been no more than a mile.

The blow obviously is designed to reduce the enemy salient and is not on as large a scale as correspondents here were lead to believe originally.

Besides clearing Dieteren, three miles southeast of Maeseyck in The Netherlands Panhandle, the Tommies have crossed the Roode in two places and fought into another village.

In the Ardennes area, where the United States First and Third Armies were steadily beating the Germans back, the fighting grew more grim.

Enemy tanks made a reappearance and a number of counter-attacks were launched from within

Patrols Cut Main Road On Luzon

Progress Made in All Invasion Drives

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ADVANCE COMMAND, Jan. 18 (Thursday) (AP).—Progress stepped up along the left flank of the United States Sixth Army's wide Luzon beachhead as patrols entered Pozorrubio and cut the main highway, headquarters reported.

Other units were within a half mile of Rosario, nine miles to the north. Action in this northwestern sector had been slowed for days by stiff Japanese opposition and one tank-led counter-attack.

Other American forces, advancing 17 miles from captured Alaminos on the right flank, reached the northern tip of the Bolinao Peninsula.

Thrusting southward from Alaminos, another force was headed toward Dasol Bay.

The left flank drive reached a half mile from Rosario. Stiff resistance still was acknowledged in the headquarters communique.

To the south patrols were operating east of the Cararuen Hills, which would be excellent as observation and artillery points if captured, and into Tarlac Province. Tarlac itself was less than 18 miles away at last reports.

American aircraft, strongly supporting all ground operations, destroyed 81 Japanese planes on the ground at Clark Field and at the Cagayan Valley airdrome.

Two American columns were approaching the important city of Tarlac on Luzon's central plains. Tarlac is about 70 miles from Manila and 21 north of Clark Field.

United States planes ranging the central Luzon plains and the areas south of Manila destroyed a number of locomotives, freight cars, three tanks and more than 50 trucks.

Heavy bombers hit supply and bivouac installations at Fort Stotsenburg, adjacent to Clark Field, starting fires.

Heavy bombers dropped 93 tons of bombs on supply areas, barracks and installations around Miri airdrome on Northern Borneo. Large explosions were observed. A 1,000-ton vessel was sunk off Brunei Bay.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1945, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, Jan 17—The whole Red Army front from the Carpathians to the Baltic is moving forward like a great avalanche, according to Berlin military spokesmen, says The Times' Stockholm correspondent.

The drive from the Baranov bridgehead to the Nida River was "like an explosion," they say, adding that such Russian success is possible only because the British and American forces are holding down so many of Germany's best troops in the West. The speed of the Soviet advance appears to have bewildered the German generals, who were unable to hold the valuable centre of Radom.

The Times' military correspondent says the main Nazi hope now must be not to seek to hold a continuous front in South Poland, but to rely on local centres of resistance and keep a maximum of mobile forces in the rear, ready for counter-attacks.

Tank General Guderian is likely to be in control of the German defensive campaign, as there is no supreme commander-in-chief on the Eastern Front, and Hitler's role is probably nominal. Von Rundstedt most likely has considerable independence of command in the West.

In view of the world-wide importance of the political situation in Greece, The Times devoted its main editorial today to the impending Parliamentary debate declaring the political settlement is now just as imperative as it was in December before the fighting began.

The tasks in Greece are these:

1 Disarm all private armies and guerrillas bands.

2 To create a Greek army to fight with the Allies.

3 Establish a broadly-based Coalition Government in Athens taking in the National Liberation Front.

4 There must be free election.

Military suppression in Greece, says The Times, will settle nothing and both extremists, the Liberation Front and reactionaries of the right wing groups, must realize force will provide no conceivable solution.

Neither must General Plastiras' Government give rise to a revival of old fears and suspicions.

Churchill May Outline Britain's Foreign Policy

LONDON, Jan 17 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden indicated today that Prime Minister Churchill would place before the House of Commons tomorrow an outline of the foreign policy he intends to advocate at the forthcoming meeting of the "Big Three."

He said the Prime Minister would deliver a statement on the whole situation during tomorrow's opening of a two-day war debate.

Mr. Churchill already has placed himself alongside President Roosevelt on two major issues: unconditional surrender for the Axis powers and in support of the aims of the Atlantic Charter.

During a heated session in the House of Commons today the Left-Wing faction of the Labor party made it clear it was far from satisfied with the Government's policy in Greece, despite the present truce which ended the six weeks of civil strife there.

Opposition leaders and [illegible] wanted the Prime Minister to clarify Britain's attitude more on plans for the supervision of a plebiscite to decide the fate of the Greek monarchy and on the possibility of revenge measures being taken by the new Government of Premier Nicholas Plastiras against the Left-Wing E L A S, the militia of the E A M National Liberation Front.

Mr. Eden lost his usual calm when after asking members to wait until tomorrow, they pressed him further. He then shouted: "Our position has not varied, has not been varied and will not be varied."

Mr. Churchill is expected to take up the Greek issue first when he

Conference in April Expected

WASHINGTON, Jan 17 (AP)—A full United Nations conference to consider the Dumbarton Oaks agreement, to be held in the United States in April or sooner, was seen by diplomatic circles here today as a definite possibility.

It now is generally believed that President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin whose next meeting has been arranged will have completed their deliberations by late February.

In that event it is assumed that they will have reached agreement on the unfinished parts of the Dumbarton Oaks document which left blank the sections dealing with voting powers and the status of a council member nation which became an aggressor.

MAY ACCEPT

LONDON, Jan 17 (CP). A possibility that King Peter might change his mind and accept a regency for Yugoslavia was indicated today. A Royal Government announcement said the Government was "convinced that the question of the Tito-Subasic agreement will be solved to the complete satisfaction of all parties concerned."

Planes Hit Oil Plants

Submarine Yards and Rail Lines Blasted

LONDON, Jan. 17 (CP).—More than 1,000 Allied planes struck today at German oil refineries and submarine yards in the enemy homeland and railroad lines which supply Holland coast V-bomb sites.

The daylight blows were a sequel to widespread operations by night-flying R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. heavyweights in which more than 1,200 aircraft dropped more than 6,000 tons of explosives on three synthetic oil plants and the key rail city of Magdeburg.

More than 700 Britain-based United States heavy bombers screened by 350 fighters, in daylight, hit one of Germany's biggest oil plants at Harburg, across the Elbe River from the battered North Sea port of Hamburg, and other targets.

Other bombers struck at freight traffic at Paderborn and other transportation objectives in Northwestern Germany, an official announcement said.

Today's strike was another in concentrated Anglo-American bombing strategy of breaking down Germany's oil supply.

The attacks touched off air raid sirens in Berlin.

Last night's raids marked the third successive full-scale night assault on Germany's dwindling fuel resources.

Specific targets included the synthetic oil refineries at Zeitz and Wanne-Eickel, near Leipzig, and another at Brux, in Czecho-Slovakia.

The blow at Magdeburg, site of a great concentration of enemy war industries, followed two Tuesday daylight raids by United States bombers.

Canadian bombers concentrated their efforts last night in the operations over Magdeburg and Zeitz. From these raids and from mine-laying in enemy waters, nine R C A F. planes are missing.

Three huge explosions shook the important installations at Brux, which until last night had been raided only by Italy-based United States 15th Air Force bombers.

It was the first time that long-range bombers from Britain had

RAID ENEMY HARBOR

LONDON, Jan. 17 (CP). — R.A.F. Beaufighters escorted by bomb-carrying Spitfires wheeled through fierce flak today in a daylight raid on enemy shipping in The Netherlands harbor of Den Helder and blasted at least nine vessels. Six Beaufighters out of a force of 38 are missing.

ADVANCE 70 MILES

LONDON, Jan. 17 (Reuters).—The German High Command, in a radio report tonight, said Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's troops have advanced more than 78 miles west from their original Vistula bridgeheads and now are almost due south of the Lodz area beyond Tomaszow. Tomaszow is 68 miles southwest of Warsaw and 30 miles south of Lodz.

Endorses Eden's Confab Proposal

WASHINGTON, Jan 17 (CP).—Secretary of State Stettinius today endorsed a proposal by Foreign Minister Eden for periodic Anglo-American-Russian conferences to tighten co-operation among the Allied powers.

The Soviet capture of Warsaw brought predictions both here and in London that the Lublin administration, which Moscow recognizes as a government, would further strengthen its political position inside Poland by moving immediately to the battered national capital.

If there is any real chance of a Polish solution the opinion here is that it will have to be worked out by Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Marshal Stalin in their forthcoming big three meeting.

The Eden proposal was taken up with Mr Stettinius at his press conference today. He said he personally was in favor of meeting with his opposite numbers in London and Moscow every three months.

British Airmen to Fight in Pacific

LONDON, Jan 17 (CP-Reuters).—British naval airmen would fight alongside their American comrades against the Japanese, advancing with them on the long remorseless path to Japan itself, A V Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, declared at a luncheon in honor of the 50th anniversary of the Navy League here today.

"We shall look forward to a tradition of naval actions in the Pacific in the long traditions of the Royal Navy," he added.

Mr Alexander warned against any belief that there was no more to fear from German U-boats.

HALF OF V-2'S FAIL

IN LIBERATED HOLLAND, Jan 17 (CP-Aneta).—Fifty per cent of the German V-2 rocket projectiles fired from the vicinity of The Hague in occupied Holland not only failed to reach their target in Britain but fell on Netherlands soil, a 21-year-old resident of The Hague said today. Many of the rockets dropped and exploded in a part of The Hague, damaging it so badly it had to be evacuated, said the youth.

Formosa Hit Again

100 Superfortresses In Daylight Smash

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—Upwards of 100 Superfortresses dealt fresh blows to Formosa today. The strike apparently was co-ordinated with carrier plane attacks against that island and the Southeast Coast of China.

The targets of the China-based B-29's were military air installations in the vicinity of Shinchiku on the Northwest Coast of Formosa, which is about 225 miles north of Luzon in the Philippines.

The raiders struck in daylight with "good results," a War Department communique reported.

The raid was the sixth by the China-based bombers against Formosa and the third within the last eight days.

Indicating that the enemy's defences on the island have been pounded thoroughly within the last few days, the communique reported that no enemy fighters opposed the B-29's and that anti-aircraft fire was "meagre to inaccurate."

All of the Superfortresses returned safely to their bases, the communique said.

The full story has not yet been told of the newest strike by carrier-borne planes of Admiral William F Halsey's Third Fleet. Partial reports listed at least 104,000 tons of shipping sunk or damaged in lightly opposed raids on Hongkong, Canton, Swatow, Amoy and Formosa's Takao Naval Base.

Additionally 48 planes, seven locomotives, ammunition dumps and docks were destroyed. Other installations were left in flames.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz definitely listed only nine ships as sunk, 21 vessels damaged, and something over 50,000 tons of shipping sunk or damaged. He clearly indicated the final report would increase the toll.

In seven days of sweeps over 1,200 miles of the South China Sea—once known as a "Japanese lake"—fast carrier forces have hit 300,000 tons of shipping, eliminated 250 planes and done untold damage to shore installations from Amoy to Saigon in French Indo-China.

British Closing In on Mandalay

KANDY, Ceylon, Jan 17 (CP-Reuters).—British Fourteenth Army troops were operating today on the east bank of the Irrawaddy River east of Shwebo, posing a further threat to Mandalay.

There were at least three columns closing in to invest the city and the most advanced troops were only about 20 miles away to the northwest. The distance from Mandalay of the new force on the east bank of the Irrawaddy was not disclosed, but the point on the river due east of Shwebo is no more than 44 miles north of the town.

The third column was progressing east-southeast from Budalin and though its distance from Mandalay was also kept secret, Budalin itself is about 70 miles northwest of the capital.

WASHINGTON, Jan 17 (AP).—United States and Canadian officials will meet in New York January 25 to discuss a new agreement on air transport services across the border.

Part of Canada in London

LONDON, Jan 17 (CP). A part of Lincoln's Inn Fields in the centre of [illegible] London, headquarters of the R C A F overseas, became permanently Canadian today when a maple tree donated by Mayor Stanley Lewis and the citizens of Ottawa was planted there by Mayor Wilfred Mullen, of Holborn Borough.

At a public ceremony the tree was set in a park as an [illegible] to the [illegible] a symbol of [illegible] friendship and affection which [illegible] between the sons and daughters of the Dominion of Canada and the people of Holborn.

Mayor Mullen praised the R C A F as one of the most deadly striking forces in aerial history and reminded the hundreds of civilians and airmen present that the tree represented something of the life which Canada has given so gladly and so well.

As he threw the first shovels full of soil around the roots the R C A F Band, under Sqdn Ldr Martin Bouads of Kirkland Lake, Ont, played The Maple Leaf Forever. A choir of R C A F Women's Division members sang and later Sgt Ted Hockeridge of Vancouver sang Land of Hope and Glory.

Germans in Full Retreat in Poland After Warsaw Taken By Encirclement Manoeuvre

Russians Within 15 Miles of Reich Border—Krakow Reported Fallen—Berlin Sorrowful

LONDON, Jan. 17 (AP).—The Russians captured Warsaw today in a breath-taking encirclement manoeuvre as a third great Red Army group plunged into the Winter offensive, pushing the Germans westward across Poland in swift retreat.

In Southern Poland the Russians swept to within 15 miles of the German border, capturing Czestochowa, 125 miles southwest of Warsaw. Poland's second city of Krakow also was reported captured.

On a front at least 250 miles long, 2,000,000 or more Russian soldiers rolled westward beyond shattered enemy defences, reaching points from 260 to 290 miles from Berlin.

As the Polish capital fell after five years and four months of German occupation and the Russians raced their huge new Stalin super-tanks along the main highroad due west towards Berlin, the Soviet-sponsored Polish Provisional Government at Lublin said that Krakow, seat of the German regime for Poland, had fallen. The German radio at Krakow suddenly went dead.

Warsaw fell with breath-taking speed in a sudden flanking movement that accomplished in one day what months of front assault had failed to do.

After two sieges, street fighting last Summer and more than five years of German occupation, the once great capital could hardly still be called a city.

In the first of three orders of the day, Stalin credited the capture to Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army group and the army of the Lublin Poles. These forces whipped around the city, crossed the ice-bound Vistula River on the north, west and south.

Zhukov's men cut the roads to Berlin some 25 miles due west of Warsaw, captured the railway town of Zyraradow 25 miles southwest, and advanced 16 to 25 miles in a day on a broad front from south of Radom up to north of Warsaw capturing more than 800 Polish towns and villages. They were pushing westward tonight on the most direct route towards Berlin, which lies 290 miles beyond Zyraradow.

Vote Today Might End Car Strike

New Application for Pay Boost Proposed

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP).—Street cars and buses will run again Friday morning in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster if a settlement proposal approved by the Federal Government and proposed by the Union Advisory Board is approved by a vote of the workers tomorrow.

Union officials and others working to terminate the strike, which has been in progress for nine days, tonight expressed confidence that the men would vote to return to work.

The proposal is that work be resumed immediately when a new application to the Regional War Labor Board will be made requesting approval of 8 cents per hour increase in the basic wage rate and of adjustment in wage rates of certain classes of labor.

The company has agreed to the second proposal but has made no statement of its attitude regarding the proposed 6-cent basic increase. Officials said their decision in this regard would be announced after the union's application is made to the board.

Voting will begin in the three cities Thursday and the results will be known around 7 p.m. Should the vote favor immediate return to work, as expected, maintenance workers would return to their duties Thursday night and operators would roll out street cars and buses early Friday morning.

Company officials said the equipment was ready to move as soon as the men returned to work.

Earlier in the day Deputy Labor Minister Arthur MacNamara in Ottawa, said the settlement plan submitted through F E Harrison, the department's Western representative, was "equally fair to the men and to the British Columbia Electric Railway Company."

"Everybody will be gratified at the prospect of transportation services resuming," said A E Grauer, executive vice-president of the company, who has been kept fully informed of all moves to end the deadlock.

The Daily Province today published a dispatch from Ottawa quoting Hon G S Pearson, War Labor Board chairman, as saying union ac-

Urges Swift Action On New Draft Law

WASHINGTON, Jan 17 (AP).—President Roosevelt told Congress today the Allied "total offensive" requires swift action on legislation putting every American man 18 to 45 into the war effort, at home or abroad.

The President sent his views to Chairman Andrew May of the House of Representatives Military Committee who promised action by tomorrow night.

Mr. Roosevelt backed up his appeal with a letter from the army and navy high commands, pleading for "young and vigorous" replacements and picturing an "acute need" in the field and in the war factories.

He urged Congress to enact May's Limited National Service Bill without quibbling over details.

NEW MINISTER

BUENOS AIRES, Jan 17 (AP).—Finance Minister Cesar Ameghino has been appointed Interim Foreign Minister in the Argentine Government and will take over his duties tomorrow. He will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Gen Orlando Peluffo.

20 Capitals Set Free by Allied Armies

By The Canadian Press

The liberation of Warsaw increases to 18 the number of European capitals freed from Axis domination by Allied forces. Three French African capitals and Addis Ababa bring the total to 20.

The capitals in order are:

Rome, Italy; Wilno, Lithuania; Paris, France; Bucharest, Romania; Brussels, Belgium; Monaco, Monaco; Luxembourg, Luxembourg; Sofia, Bulgaria; Helsinki, Finland; Tallinn, Estonia; San Marino, San Marino; Riga, Latvia; Athens, Greece; Belgrade, Yugoslavia; Tirana, Albania, and Warsaw, Poland.

Of the five capitals still under Axis domination, Budapest, Hungary, probably will be the next to fall. The Red Army is reported to hold 90 per cent of the city. The other four are Oslo, Norway; Prague, Czecho-Slovakia; Amsterdam, Holland, and Copenhagen, Denmark.

Three capitals of French African territories were freed during the war in North Africa. They were: Algiers, Algeria; Tunis, Tunisia, and Rabat, Morocco.

Addis Ababa, capital of Ethiopia, was liberated from the Italian rule by British forces.

Warsaw Scene Of Destruction

LONDON, Jan 17 (CP). The centre of liberated Warsaw is "a picture of terrible destruction with hardly a whole house left standing," a Polish front line correspondent's report broadcast tonight by the Lublin radio said.

The dispatch said all bridges across the Vistula at Warsaw had been blown up and that the river could be crossed only on the ice.

"No civilians are to be seen in the centre of Warsaw," it added. "The Copernicus statue has been taken away by the Germans. The liberating army is speedily restoring order in the city. They have already begun to repair the bridges and install telephone lines."

The correspondent said conditions among the populace were somewhat better in those districts of the capital in which the Germans had been billeted.

WOULD REDRAW MAP

LONDON, Jan 17 (CP). A five-man commission to redraw the municipal map of England and Wales so local government problems can be tackled more effectively during postwar reconstruction is the main proposal of Health Minister Willink in a new White Paper to be debated in Parliament in February.

Six Months Since Soviets Approached

LONDON, Jan 17 (Reuters).—Warsaw has fallen to the Russians nearly six months after the divisions of Warsaw-born Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky first approached the eastern outskirts of the Polish capital from the East at the end of the great 400-mile advance from Vitebsk.

The Germans took Warsaw September 27, 1939.

Its piecemeal destruction began at 6 a.m. September 1, 1939, when the Luftwaffe bombed the city without any previous declaration of war.

By September 23 the incessant rain of German bombs and shells had wreaked such havoc that the dust from the rubble made breathing difficult. Nothing has been heard since of Warsaw's mayor, Stefan Starzynski, whose undaunted courage was saluted by the Lord Mayor of London in a special broadcast September 21.

The triumphant entry into the city by Hitler, accompanied by Heinrich Himmler, was followed by a reign of terror. The Jews, comprising one-third of the total population were herded into the ghetto in the old city, their numbers being increased by new arrivals from all parts of German-occupied Europe.

By April 1943 however, only 40,000 Jews were reported to remain, all the others having been exterminated in the "death camps." The survivors, secretly furnished with small arms by the Polish underground mutinied and in the ensuing hopeless battle the ghetto was practically destroyed.

Poles in U.S. Are Enthusiastic

NEW YORK, Jan 17 (AP).—Fall of Warsaw to the Russian armies was received with gratitude and enthusiasm here tonight by spokesmen for the Polish Government and Polish-American organizations.

Dr J P J[illegible], director of the Polish Government Information Centre, said in a statement that Poles were deeply moved to hear that German occupiers were forced to leave the capital of Poland, but added:

"It is most tragic, however, that the capture by the Red Army did not occur during August and September of last year, when General Bor's home army was doing everything humanly possible to help the Red Army's offensive."

NEW ALLIED WEAPON

LONDON, Jan 18 (Thursday) (CP).—One of several new secret weapons developed by the United States army will surprise the Germans in battle, The Daily Express reported today. "One new weapon will spread terror for the Germans in coming battles," it added.

Sansom Goes to New High Post In London to Survey Training

OTTAWA, Jan 17 (CP).—Lieut.-Gen. Ernest William Sansom, 55, former overseas corps commander, has been appointed an inspector-general to survey and co-ordinate training and reinforcements in Canada and overseas, Defence Headquarters announced today.

Later it was learned reliably he would establish headquarters in London within the next few days.

General Sansom is the third Canadian high service official to go to Britain within the last few days with manpower as one of the objects of the journey.

In service circles here it was suggested the Government might be contemplating a revision of recruiting and training policies in the light of war developments.

On Monday it was announced that Air Marshal Robert Leckie, Chief of the air staff, had arrived in Britain and air circles discussed the possibility the marshal might discuss with R A F officials a modification of the Commonwealth Air Training Plan slow-down policy announced November 17.

Earlier today a report from London told of the arrival of Navy Minister Macdonald. While it was considered most likely that he would talk to the Admiralty regarding Canadian naval participation in the war in the Pacific, it also was suggested he might discuss the general war situation.

The announcement on General Sansom said he would make a survey "to ensure complete co-ordination of all matters relating to the standard and type of training and the handling and availability of reinforcements in Canada, Britain, Northwest Europe and the Mediterranean. He will report directly to General McNaughton."

Island Associations Submit Briefs to Taxation Enquiry

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP).—Arguments why credit unions and mutual fire insurance organizations should not have to pay taxes were outlined today to the Royal Commission investigating the question of application of taxes on co-operatives. At present co-operatives are tax exempt.

J. W. Burns, president of the British Columbia Credit Union League, presented a brief on behalf of the league, the British Columbia Central Credit Union and all individual credit unions in the province, contending credit unions are co-operative people's banks run on the same general principles as consumer co-operatives and should not be taxed.

Barrett Leonard, of Vancouver, outlined operations of the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of British Columbia and argued "there will be no equity of taxation on ability to pay until all taxation is reduced to the basis of the individual."

Other briefs filed with the commission were from the Salmon Arm Farmers' Exchange which deals in fruits, the Nanaimo Creamery Association, the Armstrong Co-operative [illegible] tion; the Saanich Bulb Growers' Association and the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association.

W. L. Macken, president of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, filed an addenda to his company's brief submitted yesterday.

The addenda replied to arguments made yesterday by counsel for several independent dairies that F.V.M.P.A. "avoided" taxation of its subsidiary, Associated Dairies, Ltd., by absorbing the subsidiary. Prior to 1944 Associated was not a co-operative and in 1943 paid $200,000 in taxes.

Mr. Macken's addenda said that what F.V.M.P.A. "really did was to take in a boarder that became a very definite liability from many standpoints and which cost the association plenty to get rid of." No tax revenue was lost because added returns to dairy farms made possible by taking over Associated may bring thousands of these dairy farmers into the "tax-paying class, a position very few of them have occupied thus far in their lives."

The commission's sittings in Vancouver were scheduled to end today but because all submissions have not been made, the commission will sit here again tomorrow. The extended sessions are not expected to prevent opening in Calgary next Monday as scheduled.

Mr. Burns said the Credit Union League's main business is the general fostering and furthering of the credit union movement, while the Central Credit Union is a repository for surplus and reserve funds of individual unions.

Under questioning by E. T. Parker, of Halifax, commission counsel, Mr. Burns said unions are authorized to charge for loans 1 per cent per month on unpaid balances, but the union directors can charge a lower rate.

Idea of the unions was so members can obtain a loan when they want one. Loans were based on the borrower's character rather than on his collateral.

Mr. Leonard said the Mutual insurance organization was a development from the original system of passing the hat among neighbors when a rural home is destroyed by fire. The setup spread the loss equally among many.

Only rural dwellers could join and at the end of 1944 there were 29,058 policyholders. There was no desire to make profits. The rates were large enough only to pay losses and have the reserve required by law. It is merely a "legalized partnership," Mr. Leonard said.

Mr. Leonard was the first representative of a co-operative to use the word "profits" and under questioning by Mr. Parker said it would be noticed he used quotation marks on the word and added "profits can mean many things."

Mr. Justice McDougall commented, "Profits are agreeable but hard to define."

Questioned by counsel for several joint stock insurance companies, Mr. Leonard said Mutual has never paid any Federal taxes but had paid Provincial taxes. The latter were not income taxes but a levy on the gross premium turnover.

The Armstrong Co-operative Society brief said taxation of consumer co-operatives seems unjust.

"In past years income tax, both Provincial and Dominion, has been paid on a number of occasions, sometimes under protest," said the brief. "To us such taxation seems unjust."

The society brief said that it supplies groceries, flour, feed, seeds, boots and shoes and men's wear to nearly two-thirds of the population of that Okanagan district in Interior British Columbia.

In the 22 years of its operation up to last December 31, the society had total sales of $1,884,850, with approximately $34,000 distributed to patrons, whether members or not, and the net equity of members at current values "can be conservatively placed at $40,000,000." Ninety-five per cent of the society's business is done with members.

When Rossland appeared to be approaching the status of a ghost town in 1932 following closing of its gold mines, transportation was necessary to carry workers back and forth between Trail, six miles away and 2,000 feet lower in altitude. Heavy snowfalls aggravated the situation.

Bus companies could not provide the service at a low enough rate and the co-operative was formed. The society now operates 44 seven-passenger automobiles. Ordinary passenger rate between Trail and Rossland was 90 cents. The bus companies when operating gave workmen a special rate of 50 cents a round trip.

The society set its rates at 30 cents a round trip and except for one short period this rate has been maintained since.

Each year the society has shown a surplus. The 1943 surplus was $7,337 or 14 per cent of monies paid in. After providing for reserve and depreciation, surplus funds at the year's end are returned in cash to members on the basis of the amount of patronage each has given the service.

Besides buying tickets, members when joining purchase a share of capital stock at $25 and also pay 5 cents a day which goes toward purchase of more capital stock. However, members are limited to four shares and when a member accumulates more than that number, the excess is bought back by the society out of the share capital account.

Nazis Testing New Jet Plane

LONDON, Jan. 17 (CP).—Dispatches from Zurich today said the Germans are reported to be testing a new jet-propelled "ramming plane" designed as a defence against Allied bombers. The new plane was said to be equipped with a heavily armored bow and to be of special sturdy construction to enable it to survive a crash in mid-air.

F. Davison Heads Labor Council

Fred Davison, president of the Street Railwaymen's Union, Victoria Local, was elected president of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council at an annual meeting held at the Labor Hall, Broughton Street, last night.

Other officers elected were Harold Duncan, vice-president (re-elected), George Wilkinson, secretary (re-elected), Percy Rayment, sergeant-at-arms, C. W. Marshall, organizing chairman, Herb Rowland, press chairman, Charles Chivers, legislative chairman, J. Chapman, ball committee chairman, and George Pyper, building trades chairman.

Mr. Davison succeeds C. Chivers, who had held the office of president for the past three years.

May Ask Suspension Of Mutual Benefit

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP).—Filing of an application for temporary suspension of operations of the Mutual Benefit Association is being considered by Dugald McAlpine, counsel for the commission headed by J. A. Grimmett, to investigate into the activities of such organizations throughout the province.

Mr. McAlpine said at today's hearing of the commission that in light of evidence heard and in view of the number of complaints being made to the commission in connection with rejected claims he was seriously considering filing an interim report with Commissioner Grimmett asking suspension of the association's operations until the commissioner makes his final report.

Navy Minister in London for Talks

LONDON, Jan. 17 (CP).—Angus L. Macdonald, Canadian Navy Minister, arrived in London today. Although his program for the next few days is uncertain, it is understood Mr. Macdonald plans to talk with Admiralty spokesmen regarding Canadian naval participation in the war in the Pacific.

It was expected Mr. Macdonald [illegible] a press conference Friday.

At Ottawa the most likely object for Mr. Macdonald's trip was believed to be the dove-tailing of Canadian and Royal Navy plans for the concentration of effort in the Pacific when the war in Europe has reached a decisive stage.

Speculation is that Mr. Macdonald had reached a decision on the matter and was taking that decision to London. The decision is said to envisage close co-operation between British and Canadian squadrons from primary bases in Australia and advance bases in the Philippines, where it might be pooled with the United States fleet.

With Defence Minister McNaughton campaigning in Grey North riding in Ontario and no Air Minister yet appointed, Mr. Macdonald has been holding down the three defence posts at Ottawa and it is possible he may also discuss army and air force participation in the Pacific—topics believed to have been discussed at a War Cabinet meeting just before the Navy Minister left Canada.

In this connection it has been reported that the air force may send between 15 and 20 squadrons—including fighters and bombers—to the Pacific, and the army may send a division with a full division of reserves.

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

A.P. War Analyst

Omens of a total military disaster in the East are stalking shattered German armies in flight across the Polish plains with massive Russian armies at their heels.

Within less than a week that 600-mile-wide Red Army Winter offensive has ripped to shreds the whole critical centre of the German east front from the Carpathians to the southern border of East Prussia.

The Russians took Warsaw in their stride to lunge on down both banks of the Vistula. They threaten to isolate all East Prussia and menace Berlin itself at close range. There remain no formidable natural barriers across the wide breadth of the Lower Vistula Valley behind which tottering German forces could rally short of German 1938 frontiers a bare 100 miles from Berlin.

Southward Krakow was credibly reported seized and Moscow announced capture of Czestochowa. Between them the Silesian hub of German war industries, the Gleiwitz-Hindenburg - Beuthen - Katowice-Sosnowiec cluster of factory cities that rivals the Ruhr in the West, lay exposed to the 60-mile wide Russian southern advance. Just beyond lies the Oder Valley leading into the heart of North Central Germany and to Berlin.

German photographic planes flew over London for six weeks before the concentrated air blitz on the British capital in 1940.

Victoria Sergeant Awarded Military Medal for Gallantry

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP).—Brig. Ian Strachan Johnston, 36, Toronto, who won the Distinguished Service Order leading the 48th Highlanders in Sicily and Italy, has added a Bar to his decoration, it was disclosed today by Defence Headquarters in announcing 74 awards for gallantry in the Italian theatre.

SGT. W. R. HOWARD, M.M.

Two lieutenant-colonels also won a Bar to the D.S.O. They were Lieut.-Col. Jean Victor Allard, 31, Shawinigan Falls and Three Rivers, Que., who took command of the Royal 22nd Regiment in December about the time the unit's most famous member—Maj. Paul Triquet, of Cabano, Que.—won the Victoria Cross, and Lieut.-Col. Donald Cameron, 34, Cornwall, Ont., identified as a member of the Canadian Infantry Corps.

Three Vancouver Island soldiers, including one Victorian, are listed among those winning awards. Lieut. Herbert Arthur Miller, of Port Al[illegible] Cross. Sgt. Donald Gillespie Neil, Nanaimo, won the Military Medal, and Sgt. William Ross Howard, Victoria, was also awarded the Military Medal. Sgt. Howard has since been reported killed in action in Italy.

Lieut. Miller, who is serving overseas with the Canadian Infantry Corps, was born at Ladner, B.C., later going to New Westminster, where he was living when he joined the army. His wife, Mrs. Phyllis E. Miller, resides at 310 Second Avenue S., Port Alberni.

Sergeant Neil was born in Nanaimo in 1921 and resided there until he enlisted in the active army. His wife, Mrs. Violet Neil, lives in Beith, Scotland.

Sergeant Howard was born in Revelstoke and resided in Malakwa, B.C., prior to enlistment in September, 1939. He was stationed here for some time before going overseas three and a half years ago. Originally with the Canadian Scottish, he transferred to the Princess Pats, with whom he fought throughout Sicily and Italy. He was killed in action January 4 last.

Sergeant Howard's wife and small child, Roslyn, live at 844 Johnson Street. His mother lives at Patricia Bay and his father is at present serving in Alberta with the Veterans' Guard of Canada.

THE B.C. ELECTRIC IS PROUD OF ITS OUTSTANDING LABOUR POLICY

★ The company has been bargaining collectively with the Street Railwaymen's Union for 40 years.

★ The company has had a closed shop agreement with the street railway employees for 30 years.

★ The company's collective agreement with the union is the most comprehensive one in Canada, containing 134 sections consisting of 163 provisions.

★ The company has, since 1927, covered all its employees with a comprehensive plan embracing pensions, retiring allowances for those not qualifying for pensions, and a lump sum benefit of $1,000.00 to the dependents of deceased employees. The company pays the whole cost of this comprehensive plan.

★ The wage rates and working conditions of the B.C. Electric street railwaymen taken as a whole have consistently been the best of any street railway in Canada.

★ In addition to wage rates, the men get important concessions not available to the average worker such as free transportation.

★ The transportation industry is not, like many war industries, here today and gone tomorrow. The street railwaymen have security of employment. This explains why a large proportion of our employees have long service.

★ Proof of the fairness of the company's policy in the past is shown by the unanimous decisions of the Regional War Labour Board and the National War Labour Board, both of which contain direct trade union representation.

President, B.C. Electric Railway Co.

Belgians Disappointed But Hospitable to Allied Soldiers

By H T. MATSON

Daily Colonist War Correspondent

BRUSSELS, Jan. 17.—Yesterday the thick German voice that interrupts so many B.B.C. newscasts throated out the tidings that today the Krauts would commence bombing Brussels in a really forthright [illegible] particular excuse, but just ejected his amiable warning and left much of the Brussels populace in a state of querulous anxiety.

As yet, nothing untoward has happened—the alerts wailed once or twice during the night but not sufficiently to tempt one into writing one's obituary. People in Brussels are beginning not only to feel the sting of war plus Winter, but to mildly curl their lips about it.

They actually fared considerably better under German occupation as to food and the ordinary comforts, and from many mouths one gets direct manifestations of disappointment under prevailing Allied jurisdiction and sometimes even bitter and overt criticism. They naturally resent all their large hotels, pensions and offices being requisitioned by the "militaire" they also can't help feeling a little jealous in the knowledge that the said militaire sits well-fed and in relative warmth, while they shiver and ache a little around the belt line.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND GERMAN SUCCESS

But their hardest job is to understand how Rundstedt—which is Germany, that they assumed was three-quarters paralyzed—could have punched more than just one large hole in a presumably puncture-proof Allied gas tank.

It's why enough to tell these troubled people that transport and labor difficulties have cut coal down to the very cinder dumps over which the shawled, sodden-shod poor of Brussels crawl and pluck like black buzzards for whatever combustible morsels may have escaped from some of the more fortunate furnaces and ovens—and it's also logical and acceptable enough to blame food shortages on transport and their own black market in which their own police and highly-respected local merchants and nearly all surrounding farmers and peasants, are abandonedly wallowing. But it's by no means so simple to try and escape from Rundstedt merely by hiding under an umbrella.

The same rain ran down Rundstedt's neck and the same mud clogged his spurs, yet when Rundstedt was really at his best nearly [illegible] official mouth-organs were practically toppling the thin tune that 90 per cent of Jerry's success was attributable to the unutterably nonphusing weather.

But, strange to say, the Belgians seem of the opinion that a Hun can get just as wet and gummed up as an "Anglais" . . . Eh voila, why cannot the Anglais make zen just so good when wet as make is Bosche, pliz?—Quiet, quiet—Just try and tell 'em!

PEOPLE ARE BECOMING RESTIVE

Hence the people are symptomatically becoming a trifle restive. A few weeks ago the attitude of most civilians seemed to contain a pretty high grade of deference toward anyone in conformative battle-dress. To wit, until recently, nearly any native when asked a direction to a given point would usually drop his hat and coat in mid-street and then almost Shanghai you off to the exact destination regardless of distance or dates pending but today the tendency is to be treated more to a surfeit of gesticulatory or breathy oratory—with garlic.

Similarly in shops and restaurants personnel seem by no means so keen about letting customers stand limpidly fish-like by the counters while soldiers spend plenty of time but no money merely flirting or trying to date up prettier salesgirls and silk-shinned waitresses.

Nevertheless, Brussels and the Belgians make life very pleasant for the soldier. Private families post notices in all the leave hotels inviting practically anyone in Allied uniform to come and share their "rafe malt" and cognac there also are clubs and canteens of all sorts where service is mostly dispensed gratis by hard-working Belgian society women.

Tea in such places costs one franc and a meal of sorts can be bought for a negligible sum. No soldier need go hungry here.

Says Minister Must Be in Parliament

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Jan 17 (CP)—An acclamation in Grey North for Defence Minister McNaughton "would reflect the greatest credit upon the people of Grey North and upon the opposition parties," Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs and Health, told electors here tonight.

"We did not call this by-election for the purpose of stirring up political controversy," he said. "It is being held because if Parliament is to function effectively in backing our national war effort, the Minister of National Defence must have a seat and a voice in Parliament."

Mr. Mackenzie referred to suggestions the Government had been neglectful of the welfare of ex-servicemen and women, and said the Veterans' Affairs Committee of Parliament consisted of those members of the House who are members or ex-members of the forces, regardless of party.

The Government never failed to accept the committee's amendments to legislation.

Payment of war service gratuities began on January 1 and 4,200 cheques had been issued to members of the forces already discharged. More than 20,000 pension awards had been made to persons who have served in the forces during the present war. The annual liability for the 20,000 is more than $10,000,000. More than 120,000 discharged members of the forces had been awarded benefits under the post discharge re-establishment order.

Because of the difficulty in obtaining farm implements and building material, there had been deliberate delay in placing veterans on farms, he said, but plans have now been made for delivery of farm implements and building materials "during the coming year."

The number of persons discharged up to September 30 was 169,927, while the number of veterans placed in employment throughout Government agencies up to that date was 161,974.

OXENDEN, Ont., Jan 17 (CP)—W. Garfield Case, Progressive Conservative candidate in the Grey North Federal by-election, tonight spoke of the Government candidate, Defence Minister A. G. L. McNaughton, as a "man whose contribution to date must have been considered absolutely incompetent."

The former Owen Sound mayor spoke at a by-election meeting here and referred to previous speeches in which he had asked Liberal candidate General McNaughton to say why he returned to Canada from overseas, why he resigned as commander in chief of the Canadian Army.

"He has not felt it worth while to answer," said Mr Case. "Yet the answers are vital."

"Will we the people, still without full knowledge of events, be asked to entrust the lives of Grey North and other Canadian boys into the hands of a man whose contribution to date must have been considered absolutely incompetent?" he asked.

"That is the only conclusion we can reach. There is no reason why we should not be answered.

"It would bring no comfort to the enemy, for the enemy has already been comforted by the knowledge of Canada's attitude towards total war."

Turning to Prime Minister Mackenzie King's recent appeal to the Grey North electors—"Saying in effect 'You will elect the man I have chosen or the Government will cease to function as a democratic institution'"—Mr Case said this was the "most despicable action we have ever witnessed."

ANNAN, Ont., Jan. 17 (CP)—Air Vice-Marshal A. Earl Godfrey, C.C.F. candidate in the Grey North Federal by-election February 5, speaking here tonight said the only answer to the "present chaotic manpower situation was equal service and equal treatment for all."

Mr Godfrey said one matter was agreed upon by all members of the service, and that was the way in which the manpower situation had been "bungled." "There are so many different classes of service now that no one knows what is what," he said.

"I am confident that the men overseas, to a man, would say that what they want is the complete removal of all distinctions between volunteers and draftees and removal of all discrimination between these classes, too."

APPROVE DUMBARTON

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Jan 17 (AP)—The Institute of Pacific Relations was in general agreement today that Dumbarton Oaks or better should be the objective of the United Nations. The 160 Far Eastern experts agreed rather pessimistically that there is no use of talking about a world security council to preserve the peace unless the "Big Four" have a will to hang together and can find a basis for agreement.

From Europe

The Times comments on the paucity of reliable news and refusal to allow representatives of the United Kingdom and United States press access to the leaders of the National Liberation Army.

It says that in spite of the campaign, both in Athens and London, "to vilify earlier dispatches of press correspondents," news from Greece then was more satisfactory than it is now.

Parliament should ask for more information than that given out officially. Because General Plastiras has refused to consider an amnesty, the outlook for Greece is by no means bright.

Aerial Raids

reached out for the recently rebuilt plant and represented a round trip of more than 1,600 miles for 200 Lancasters assigned that target.

R.C.A.F. Halifaxes, of the Goose, Bison, Alouette Snowy Owl Squadrons flew with the R.A.F. to attack the industrial and railway centre of Magdeburg, while Ghost Squadron Lancasters struck at a synthetic oil plant at Zeitz, near Leipzig, the R.C.A.F. reported. Scores of Canadians also flew in R.A.F. squadrons on the Magdeburg raid.

Both raids were termed "successful" and returning airmen said Magdeburg was left a mass of flames. Many combats with enemy fighters took place.

Flt. Sgt. R. I. Stewart, of Wrentham, Alta., a Ghost Squadron rear-gunner told how he opened fire on a Messerschmidt 210 and watched the German plane burst into flames, hit the ground and explode. He saw a parachute open before the plane crashed.

F.O. P. D. Mitchell, of Lloydminster, Sask., a Ghost Squadron rear-gunner, drove off a twin-engined Messerschmidt with a long fusilade and claimed it was "damaged." The Lancaster, however, was not so lucky with flak and came back "full of holes."

F.O. Bruce Gray, of Vancouver, also thought he damaged a fighter which attacked another Ghost Squadron aircraft.

Sqdn. Ldr. V. G. Motherwell, of Vancouver described the Magdeburg attack as a "very good bombing effort." "The ground was just a big mass of flame," he said. "I also noticed a couple of big explosions."

Canadians in R.A.F. squadrons attacking Magdeburg included F.O. H. H. LeCren, of Nanaimo, B.C. and Flt. Sgt. Tom Largary, of Edmonton.

Pioneer Fireman Dies in Hospital

Harry Patrick McDowell, 76, a native son of Victoria who had served as deputy chief under Thomas Deasy in the old Victoria Volunteer Fire Department, died yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital. He was born on March 18, 1868.

With his late brothers, M. C. McDowell and W. J. McDowell, co-owners of The Evening Post, then a Victoria daily, he learned the printing business long before the turn of the century. Later Mr. McDowell bought out the Broad Street premises of Archie Williams, first Victoria manufacturer of rubber stamps.

He left the printing business when the fire department was put on a full-time basis, and became a full-time city fireman. He stayed with the department for 25 years and left the service as deputy chief. Returning to the printing trade Mr. McDowell opened a shop in the St. James Hotel building, Johnson Street, and later moved to a new location at 648 Cormorant Street. In 1941 he retired from business.

Mr. McDowell had lived with his sister, Miss Katherine McDowell, 228 Edward Street. Funeral arrangements, to be announced today, will be in charge of Hayward's B.C. Funeral Company.

COMPLAINTS RECEIVED

Sidney Roofing & Paper Co. Ltd. yesterday asked the city to make immediate improvements to Kimta and Songhees Roads near its plant.

Mrs W. J. Edwards complained of street conditions near her home at 1762 Carrick Street.

Are You a Sufferer From Rheumatic Pains?
These pains come from an inflammation in the muscles and are generally caused by a deposit of poison in the blood called uric acid which produces the irritating and painful effect that causes many days and nights heavy with pain.
During the past 60 years Canadian people have found that by purifying the blood stream, Burdock Blood Bitters aids them to enjoy freer body movement with less rheumatic pain, as B.B.B. helps to tone up the system and clear up the uric acid in the blood, and probably help fortify the system against future attacks.

Half a Cent Onward!

As this is being written, half a cent an houe appears to separate the negotiators and the employees in the British Columbia Electric Railway motormen's and busmen's strike, now ten days old. According to announcements made at the time by a spokesman for the Regional War Labor Board, an agent for the National War Labor Board, a five and a half cents an hour increase was offerrd to the men before they actually went on strike. The men refused the offer, and the strike followed. Ottawa declared the strike to be illegal. The American Federation of Labor's international union offices said it was unauthorized, and against the federation's policy of "no strikes" in wartime. The public, standing upon no technicalities, is anxious to have this interruption — a most serious one in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster—over and done with. The means, however, are of importance.

If the facts are as currently reported, this may become known as the "Half-Cent Strike" in Canada. The advisory committee of the Street Railwaymen's Union has now recommended the acceptance of a six cents an hour increase in the basic wage, an offer that must have come from somewhere. There is also a suggestion that Ottawa could force the increase on the operating company, in spite of the illegal, unauthorized and highly questionable means taken by the men to arrive at that result. Anxious as everyone is to have the strike ended, we mistrust this remedy. It is full of contradictions, legal and human.

If it is shown that the street railwaymen struck for half a cent an hour more than they were offered — four cents a day, or $1.20 in the average month — and that Canada, in spite of all its protestations, concurred, what will that do to the whole field of industrial-labor relations throughout the Dominion? The wage ceiling becomes an auction, with force a constant threat. The cost-of-living bonus is thrown out of the window. The law, as it stands, is mocked, and set at naught. Should Canada consent to all this?

It would have been better for the men, better for the operating company, and infinitely better for the general public if Ottawa had stood up to its obligations in this matter. The men should have been obliged to return to work, and then the whole of their case could have been reheard. For if this is to be the finish, there will be no real settlement at all. Every payroll entity in the country, desiring half a cent an hour more, can barrack the war effort, can cripple communities at will, and can be supported in this by the Government of Canada.

We still say that it is Canada's duty to require the street railwaymen to return first to work, and then to see that their case is heard from beginning to end, in the light of reason and not of out-of-hand expediency. No country, surely, need buy men back to work, while war rages over our lives and freedom. We feel that the public, the real victims of this strike, is also being made the goat by its own Government. It is being sold out, and at every turn.

Empire Casualties

Two facts are striking in Mr. Churchill's announcement on the war casualties among British Empire forces between September 1, 1939, and December 1, 1944. The first is that, in spite of the savage nature of the war, the casualty lists are one-third of what they were in the much shorter period of the Great War, 1,043,554 casualties in five years and three months, compared with 3,490,907 casualties in four years and not quite four months of actual combat. The difference may be due partly to the change of circumstances, but also it lends itself to the belief that armor is saving the men in the line appreciably.

The second striking fact is the dispersal of the casualties among all parts of the British Empire. The United Kingdom, with 635,107 field casualties, not including 140,675 civilian ones, stand first on the list; longest in the battle and never out of the firing line. Great Britain can number 199,497 war dead and 235,205 men wounded in action, apart entirely from the civilian victims of the air blitz and the rocket bombs over her home soil. India stands next, with 152,597 casualties, including 17,415 dead and 45,224 wounded. Australia is technically in third place with 84,861 casualties, which include 25,597 prisoners of war, presumably after Tobruk.

Canada, in fourth place, has the second highest standing in those who have paid the supreme sacrifice, with 28,040 dead and 39,010 wounded in a total casualty list of 78,985 names. Three factors probably influenced this result. One was Canada's very high proportion of men in the active flying services, considerable numbers of men at sea, and the field actions in repeated campaigns of attack. Apart from Dieppe, our sole fiasco to date, there were relatively few prisoners of war in the Canadian list, and not many in the aggregate listed as missing. Two months very severe fighting, of course, have followed since the summary was compiled.

We know of no better answer today to what the British Empire is doing in the war than to recite Mr. Churchill's figures for the casualties down the line. They read: United Kingdom, 635,107; India, 152,597; Australia, 84,861; Canada, 78,985; New Zealand, 34,115; South Africa, 28,943; and the colonies and protectorates, grouped, 28,946 casualties. The British Empire has been fighting for five years and five months. This sums up our losses in five years and three months [illegible] been providentially light compared with the experiences of the Great War, when men on the ground had little armor and men in the air no parachutes.

Curiouser, Without Alice

Mr. Mackenzie King's reported position on a general election in Canada is becoming curiouser and curiouser, as "Alice" might have said had she been present. Very clear in the peoples' minds is the Prime Minister's statement that there would be "no election" while the armed conflict lasted, unless he were barracked by the Opposition—a singular condition in itself. Now Mr. King is implied as stating that there will be "no session" of Parliament in February unless Defence Minister McNaughton is chosen by the people at North Grey—as a war necessity, of course—but that a general election would follow in due course before or after the expiry of the normal life of the present Parliament.

Under the circumstances, however, it is Mr. King who must decide on what will be the life of the present Parliament of Canada, the Nineteenth. He has some precedent both ways. Mr. Churchill prolonged the life of Great Britain's war Parliament. President Roosevelt, as obliged, appealed to the electors of his country. Mr. King could still say "no election"—and that is what he was saying a little while back—if he chose to do so. The war, quite obviously, is rising to its crest. There are many sound reasons why politics as a side issue should not be interjected into this nation's war effort during the coming months. We know there are precedents and reasons the other way also; but it is Mr. King who must do the choosing. It is his move.

What we find very curious indeed is this latent disposition on the part of the Prime Minister to bargain with the electorate. "No election" unless barracked; "no session" if McNaughton cannot find a seat, and so forth. Well, the people have some choice in the matter, too. If this country is put to the expense and delay of a political campaign, the voters will have the last word. Is Mr. King prepared, also, for that? Shall we yet be told it will be a matter of sheer necessity in the war to re-elect Mr. King?

Fall of Warsaw

The capture of Warsaw by Russian forces, after what amounts to a three months' battle, is a crushing defeat for Germany in the war. Warsaw was the main pivotal anchor of the enemy on the southern end of the great Eastern Front. Even if our Allies had not been engaged on the general attack which opened this week, the Germans would have had to fall back a considerable distance in consequence. As matters stand, the Russians are commencing what may be their last field campaign with a tremendous advantage over the common enemy. What Warsaw meant to the Nazis can be learned best from the defence that went into it, from the determined effort in a counter-thrust to relieve its garrison, and from all that must now follow step by step. Germany is very close to the position that Hitler once foresaw and dreaded — a Reich open on two vast fronts, both active and both the scene of mounting and well-armed attacks. He may regret that his book had such an enforced circulation—it forecasts the end of any war upon these terms. Mr. Churchill's "unconditional surrender" will put a neat period after that passage in the book which describes a two-front war under modern arms.

Seen in Passing

The public has a sure instinct when it inveighs against partisanship, with half a head, half a body and not the whole of anything. Yet the public in its individual parts is partisan, endlessly taking sides without weighing the facts, blind in the most convenient eye, deaf at times in that ear which is nearer to the truth. It is partisan in age, in sex, in aught that could be named. And still in the sum the public is not partisan. It is neither blind nor deaf. It is often closer to the truth than any of its single members can be, and never closer we believe than when it inveighs against partisanship, for the love of taking sides.

Lost Days

The lost days of my life until today,
What were they, could I see them on the street
Lie as they fell? Would they be ears of wheat
Sown once for food, but trodden into clay?
Or golden coins squandered and still to pay?
Or drops of blood dabbling the guilty feet?
Or such spilt water as in dreams must cheat
The undying throats of Hell, athirst alway?
I do not see them here; but after death
God knows I know the faces I shall see,
Each one a murdered self, with low last breath.
"I am thyself—what hast thou done to me?"
"And I—and I—thyself" (lo! each one saith),
"And thou thyself to all eternity!"

On Christmas Eve

By L. S. B. SHAPIRO

BANDE, in the Ardennes, Jan. 17 (By Wireless).—If you've got this paper propped against the marmalade jar on your breakfast table you had better turn the page. You'll be glad you did, because this is an atrocity story, but I've got to write it—not the way I heard it, but the way I am seeing it—and it makes my [illegible] me over every few minutes to retch in a snowbank on the outskirts of this Belgian hamlet.

Just beyond the snowbank, in a squat frame shack, the bodies of 34 men and boys lie in ordered rows. Under a sign reading, "Cafe de la Post," the door of the shack is open. So are two large windows wide open, so it is easy for all who pass on the roadside to see inside. The bodies, though for three weeks lifeless, have been preserved by the cold of the wind that sweeps across this shallow river valley from the forests on the surrounding hills. The gore of this slaughter is still red upon the shattered faces, as though the German executioner has just completed his work.

Each had been killed by a shot in the back of the neck from a heavy calibre pistol and the bullet has mutilated their mouths and noses. But their eyes and foreheads still bear the imprint of horror, and a boy, who was perhaps 15 and who must have squirmed too viciously in the grip of a German, was shot twice in the groin. His childlike face bears no blemish, but his black, church-going suit is splattered with the flesh of his body.

Of the 34 bodies only 33 are visible. In the corner nearest the door, one of the youths is enclosed in a plain brown coffin. It was brought this morning by the youngster's aged father, who had constructed it, as is the local custom, for his own funeral. Other fathers have been passing here these last few minutes pulling carts filled with lumber to build coffins for their sons.

Twenty yards from the shack stands the bare stone walls of a burned-out dwelling. It is here where the executions were performed on Christmas Eve. Thirty-five men and boys were rounded up frivolously that afternoon as soon as the Germans swept into this hamlet. They were pummelled in an attempt to make them reveal the names of pro-Allied villagers. When night fell each was conducted individually to this burned-out dwelling. Just inside the doorless entrance a Nazi executioner lurked. He pulled down the head of each victim, fired and pushed the falling body into the gaping space where the cellar originally was. Here, inside the entance, bloodstained caps are scattered where they were blown from the heads of the victims.

Only one escaped—the 35th victim. He was the last to be led away and, knowing the fate that awaited him, he charged the German soldier and scurried across the frozen river to the woods. As soon as British troops arrived, this youth showed citizens of the town where the bodies lay. The whole mourning populace helped to carry the bodies to a more decent repose in the shack.

I have seen much of death since "D" Day, men going into battle prepared for it. But these are farm boys of this hamlet who are dressed in their Sunday best, and were prepared only to go to church on Christmas Eve. Perhaps it is the picture of the German that turns my stomach most — the German who spent Christmas Eve slaughtering 34 men and boys and toppling their bodies into a cellar.

A REJOINDER

Sir,—A letter by Donald H. Seymour in the January 16 edition of your good paper contains a misquotation of part of a letter sent by the Victoria C.C.F. to the city council. Mr. Seymour's letter should have read in part: "The C.C.F. letter reads in part: 'By requesting this information and using it in its consideration to buy or not to buy Victoria bonds the Great West Life Co. violates the right of the mayor and aldermen to belong to the political party of their choice. In a word, if you don't belong to the right parties we won't invest in Victoria bonds. "Free enterprise" does not believe in complete political and economic freedom for good Canadian citizens.'"

No wonder Mr. Seymour was confused. In editing the news item a typographical error was made in the composing room of another paper, "Victory" was used instead of the correct word, "Victoria," an easily made error considering the similarity of the words.

Mr. Seymour challenges the veracity of the statements made regarding political and economic freedom under so-called "free enterprise" without giving any evidences to back up his assumption. We would like to point out that if any employer asked for the political affiliation of any applicant for employment we would justly regard it as trespassing on the rights of the individual. We contend the Great West Life was trespassing on the rights of the individual in this case. What possible connection can there be between the political affiliation of the mayor and aldermen and the worth of City of Victoria bonds? The men were elected on platforms divorced from political programs. Most appealed to the electors on past records either in municipal office or the community. The Great West Life by withholding their investment in City of Victoria bonds could interfere with the political freedom of municipal electees.

NOW WE KNOW

Sir,—Your enquiring note today with reference to the tax imposed on cigarette papers would seem to indicate the impression that this commodity alone has been singled out by the Federal Government for excessive taxation, but your article might reasonably have taken into account the tax imposed upon factory-made cigarettes. For instance, if comparison is to be made as between the amount of a tax and the original retail value of the article.

Factory-made cigarettes, selling today at $1.60 per 100 over the retail counter, carry an excise tax of $1 per 100 and undoubtedly the Federal Government, in imposing what appears to be an unreasonable tax on the papers, is attempting to equalize the amount of taxation borne by smokers in general by taxing the papers at eight cents per book so that smokers, whether they prefer to "roll their own" or find it simpler to buy them ready made, will be bearing approximately the same proportion of tax. This seems so obvious as to scarcely need any explanation.

When you are taking up the matter of apparently disproportionate taxation, it seems to me fairly obvious, too, that the Federal Government has been fair in taxing commodities which are not, in the strictest sense, necessary to the conduct of normal living, as in the case of whisky or cigarettes, to mention only two items, and which, by the way, are now taxed out of all proportion to their intrinsic value, so that other, and evidently more essential articles will be made available to the public at a lower cost, which is as it should be.

Actually it would appear that smokers and drinkers are apparently among our most patriotic citizens, providing, as they do, a large proportion of Canada's national revenue, and surely this is a valuable, if unconscious, contribution to the common good.

St. Martin's Holds Annual Meeting

There was a large attendance at the annual meeting of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields on Monday evening, the vicar, Rev. K. L. Sandercock, presiding. Proceedings began with supper served by the ladies of the W.A. and Guild.

The financial statement showed a substantial balance in hand and all obligations met. Splendid progress was reported made by all organizations and far-reaching plans made for the future, including a building program and the purchase of a new organ.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Vicar's warden, J. Atkinson; people's warden, R. R. F. Sewell; committee, J. Brice, W. Gilbert, S. Helling, L. Rust, M. Sharp, C. Hilton, S. Wilson, F. Foster, B. Harding and J. T. Willoughby; delegates to ruri-decanal conference, Mrs. Clegg and Mrs. Cornwall; representatives to synod, Messrs. Sewell, Foster, Bartlem and Willoughby. A vote of thanks to the ladies of the congregation for their valuable work during the past year was passed.

An error, no matter how egregious, may not be punished if the opponents adopt a passive attitude and do nothing to capitalize their advantage. In today's deal, indeed, South's outrageous bid actually gained many points because East was afraid to "open his mouth."

Not unnaturally, West led the unbid diamond suit, and the horrible contract became a laydown.

Before we get around to the North-South bidding, let's look at that final pass of East's. Strong words would be needed to appraise it accurately. So, quite calmly, let's merely say that East should have doubled—that his failure to double was at best unimaginative, at worst downright cowardly. One thing East should have known: if he passed it was almost certain that West would lead a diamond and it certainly was likely that since the grand-slam-bidding opponents lacked the club ace, they had the tops in the diamond suit. Thus, it required no great omniscience to guess that South, who must be short in both minors, would be able to discard the club losers if he were given the chance. Since a double under the circumstances would have called for the lead of a suit bid by North-South, and since West could not have found any reason to open a spade or a heart, the club lead would have been virtually marked.

This leaves us little space for the North-South bidding, but we don't need much. North's bidding was entirely justified, but South's jump to seven was a sheer "stab."

Order to Pay Reserves and Deductions

REGINA, Jan 17 (CP).—Mr Justice H V Bigelow in Court of King's Bench today handed down a judgment declaring that the Saskatchewan Co-operative Producers, Ltd., formerly known as the Saskatchewan ment of commercial reserve and elevator deductions to Robert Barnes of Winnipeg, who had brought action to collect.

Principal of the sum sought by Mr. Barnes was $253.02, but the judgment noted that the total of deductions from all growers was $6,567,000 for commercial reserve and $12,188,000 in elevator deductions.

The plaintiff is entitled to payment by the co-operative only after claims of the Province of Saskatchewan are met. In 1929-30 the pool suffered a loss of $13,305,654 due to overpaying an advance to farmers. The province paid the banks this liability and since then the pool had reduced the principal sum owing the province to less than 60 per cent. But provision had been made that repayment on the deductions should not be made to producers until the province's claims were satisfied.

Spokesman for the co-operative said appeal against the judgment probably would be taken but final decision would await a meeting of directors.

Mr. Barnes, who formerly farmed at Rush Lake Sask., sought the deductions from proceeds paid to him by the pool on grain he delivered from 1923 to 1927 inclusive, with interest since 1930.

His contracts with the pool had authorized the deductions.

When Mr. Barnes entered his claim for payment of deductions and interest in August, 1943, the pool said it did not have to pay. Mr Justice Bigelow said the defendants claimed they could hold the money and refuse to pay interest until there was a dissolution of the company.

"The whole scheme of refusing to pay the plaintiff and others like him their money or any interest and yet at the same time pay its profits in the form of patronage dividends, so called, to $1 shareholders, seems to me like confiscation and feasting on the rights of others . . ." Mr Justice Bigelow said.

In his opinion, the defendant pool was a trustee for the plaintiff.

"I consider the refusal to pay interest to the plaintiff and the use of the profits of the defendants to pay so-called patronage dividends as a breach of trust."

The plaintiff was entitled to terminate the trust and get his money back with interest, although he could not secure that redress until the claims of the province had been satisfied.

"Resurrection" Comes to York

Amusements
ON THE SCREEN
Atlas—"Between Two Worlds," starring Paul Henreid and John Garfield.
Capitol—"I Love a Soldier," starring Paulette Goddard.
Dominion—"One Body Too Many," starring Jack Haley and Jean Parker.
Oak Bay and Plaza — "The Hairy Ape," with William Bendix.
Rio—"Holy Matrimony," starring Monty Woolley and Gracie Fields.
York—"Resurrection," starring Fredric March and Anna Sten.

A world that is now only a memory comes to life again when Fredric March and Anna Sten are seen in the leading roles of Tolstoy's prophetic novel, "Resurrection," beginning today at York Theatre.

Produced by Samuel Goldwyn and directed by Rouben Mamoulian, "Resurrection" has been hailed by press and public alike as one of the greatest and most powerful love stories of all time.

This best loved of all Russian stories has the countryside in the days of the Czars as its early setting. In its writing and in its technical production, "Resurrection" offers as much that is new and provocative as the great novel on which it is based, did to the world so many years ago.

RIO THEATRE Taken alone, either Monty Woolley or Gracie Fields would more than hold up their end of the fun-making in a picture. But when they're teamed, as they are in "Holy Matrimony," the uproarious new 20th Century-Fox comedy, currently playing at the Rio Theatre, they're in there pitching all the time—both wit and woo.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES In Jules Levey's "The Hairy Ape" currently at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, William Bendix, for the first time in his film career, is cast vis-a-vis a beautiful female. He folds her in his arms, strokes her hair, she smiles into his eyes, but that, alas, is all. She escapes him, and he makes a beeline for the nearest exit. Hollywood's most sacred tradition and the plot of Eugene O'Neill's drama, from which this first film version was made, would not permit Mr Bendix to get the girl.

DOMINION THEATRE Jean Parker, one of Hollywood's actresses with an enviable record, steps into another coveted role in a Paramount mystery comedy, "One Body Too Many," currently playing at the Dominion Theatre, marking a new high in the popular Jean Parker's film career. But Jean's unusual talents lead Hollywood critics to believe that the veteran young movie beauty will soar to even greater heights in the near future. She's five feet three inches tall, weighs 106 pounds, has titian nut-brown hair and hazel eyes.

ATLAS THEATRE Eleanor Parker currently playing in Warner Bros' "Between Two Worlds" now at the Atlas Theatre, starring John Garfield, Paul Henreid, Sydney Greenstreet and Miss Parker, is the possessor of a picture of a Japanese pin-up girl. The picture was taken from the body of a Jap soldier killed in the Southwest Pacific and sent her by her husband, Lieutenant Fred Lossee.

CAPITOL THEATRE Paramount's "I Love a Soldier" packs a real emotional wallop. Starring Sonny Tufts and Paulette Goddard this screen story now playing at the Capitol Theatre has its moments of serious drama interspersed with hilarious comedy. Producer-director Mark Sandrich, following up his success with "So Proudly We Hail," has an excellent cast which gives able support to Sonny and Paulette. They include Mary Treen, Walter Sande, Ann Doran, Barry Fitzgerald, James Bell, Marie McDonald, Frank Albertson and Beulah Bondi.

Man "Found Dead" Goes to Police

VANCOUVER, Jan 17 (CP).—A man "found dead" here last November walked into police headquarters today.

Two months ago police pulled a body out of the waters of the Lost Lagoon, at the entrance to Stanley Park, which was later identified as John Kuzek, of West Toronto. The man's throat was slashed. He was about 50 years of age, five feet three inches in height and weighed 130 pounds.

Mrs. Caroline Kuzek, of Vancouver, later "positively identified" the body as that of her husband. Bridgework in the man's mouth, a scarred finger and a small lump on his lower right ear were her proof. Also in the man's pockets were two unemployment insurance cards, issued at Toronto, and a certificate of exemption under the alien enemy regulations.

John Kuzek today told police that in November he had gone to a coroner's court to report that he was still alive. But he couldn't get in touch with the coroner, so he returned to his work at Britannia Mines, B.C. Now he is on holiday and came in to explain he is not dead.

Mrs. Kuzek today identified the living John Kuzek as her husband.

Wide Powers for Housing Chiefs

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP).—James A Robertson, recently given wide powers by the Prices Board to deal with Ottawa's housing shortage as Administrator of Emergency Shelter Regulations, has decreed: "Those renting family units here on or after January 17 must first get a permit or an authorization from the Board and no landlord can rent to a person without one."

Object of the new regulations is to discourage all persons whose work is not in Ottawa from coming to increase the overcrowding of the city. This category includes wives and families of civil servants and service personnel.

Single rooms also come under the new regulations but Board officials said they were not paying much attention to them at the moment because there was little shortage of such accommodation. However, they said it was possible single rooms may be brought under permit control later.

"However, there is a great shortage of units of two or three rooms with cooking privileges and we hope people will open up their top floors and other rooms to young couples and Government girls," he said.

Methods of handling Ottawa housing crisis are expected to help solve similar problems in other congested areas—Halifax, Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver and Victoria.

"We have the power to enforce billeting but that is the last thing we want to do," Mr Robertson said. "But we are going to try to stop cases where one man moves away and his successor takes over his house or apartment."

Planning Postwar Research Policy

They include, in addition to research, proposed grants in aid to research, fellowships, scholarships and bursaries for both pure and industrial research.

B.C. Quota Set at $800,000

British Columbia will be asked to raise $800,000 in the coming 1945 Canadian Red Cross campaign. This drive will commence March 5, it is announced by Dr. Fred W. Routley, national commissioner. The national quota has been set at $10,000,000, which will include funds for Allied nations.

Supporting the Red Cross means more parcels for prisoners of war, to whom they are a godsend. When men return from German prison camps they all tell the same story: "Red Cross parcels have kept us going." Donations come from many quarters.

The British Columbia Prisoner of War Bureau received a cheque for $10 recently with which to pay for food parcels for prisoners. It came from the wife of a prisoner of war, accompanied by the following note:

"In my husband's last letter, written September 15, he says 'Support the Red Cross, as their weekly parcels are a godsend.'"

Prisoners of war, writing from prison camps, all tell the same story. "Without them we would only exist," one man wrote. Cost of these parcels is placed at $2.75 by the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Harpist Delights Victoria Audience

Ruth Lorraine Close charmed a large and responsive audience at the Empress Hotel last night when she played old melodies with crystal clarity and interpreted jazz on her harp. Miss Close, who is making a name for herself in Portland where she is one of the top strings in the Philharmonic, was heard in a recital sponsored by the Victoria Musical Art Society.

In her first group, "Invocation," "Chanson de Guillot-Martin" and "Fantaisie Pour la Harpe," she showed a fine sense of rhythm and an easy yet beautifully controlled technique. Her entire performance showed this quality. Miss Close has a splendid grasp of the dynamic possibilities of the harp

The delicacy and eerie beauty of Debussy's "First Arabesque" made this the highlight of the harpist's program. It was followed by two sprightly French songs and by the novel and interesting number, "Le Jazz." In the latter she expressed the unrest and rhythm of much of modern music.

This last group was very well received by the audience and she played two encores The Victoria audience showed keen appreciation of the harpist's talent.

Clorinda Topping lyric soprano, handled the group of French songs very well. Their delicacy was a perfect choice for her sweet voice, which was particularly good in the high register. "Romance (Debussy) and "Ouvre Tes Yeux Bleus" showed real charm. Miss Topping was well received in the last group also, these wera of the sturdier English type The encore, "Lindy Lou," was charmingly done.

In the first group of songs, the depth and background of Bach and Handel were lacking, but the singer's performance was good.

Western Front

the bulge. All of these were suppressed, it was announced, but an indication of the fury of the battle was the fact that 24 German tanks were knocked out during the day.

Fighting also flared to new intensity on the United States Seventh Army's front in the 15-mile arc from the Hatten area to tha Germans' Gambsheim bridgehead north of Strasbourg. Infantry bored ahead more than 2,000 yards and battled back into the town of Herrlisheim after once giving up the same terrain in the swaying battle.

Allied sources had no reports of important activity on the Canadian First Army front in Holland. But the German Transocean Agency asserted Canadian units made local attacks northeast of Nijmegen and at Driel, on the Maas (Meuse) River about 30 miles south of Nijmegen.

Tha United States First Army's advance to within four miles of St. Vith was made by the 30th Division to the northwest of this last German gate on the road back to the Siegfried Line — a junction of seven highways and two railroads.

Advancing over bad terrain and through tough defences, the 30th gained as much as two miles, reached the village of Recht, and pushed on toward St. Vith

On its left flank the 1st Division pounded its way a mile south of Faymonville, reaching a point seven miles north of St. Vith.

The 7th Division captured Vielsalm, on the north flank of the Ardennes salient, in Liege Province 13 miles from the German border They found the Germans had vacated this town without a fight Between Vielsalm and Houffalize the Germans launched four counter-attacks against the 83rd Infantry and 3rd Armored Divisions late Tuesday, but all were repulsed. The Houffalize-St. Vith highway was in American hands as far east as Sterpigny, and the junction of the First and Third Armies at Houffalize, Tuesday, gava the Allies control of all other main roads out of that fallen highway hub.

The Germans now were digging in feverishly all along the northeast arc from the Bastogne sector to Scholpen, and German armor which had pulled back from the collapsing western end of the Ardennes sack appeared again for action.

It appeared tonight that Field Marshal von Rundstedt had given the "stop-and-hold" order to save the last half of the salient from crumbling.

"Von Rundstedt's withdrawal has slowed up," a staff officer said in the field, "but fighting is hard on both sides"

With the First and Third Armies again fighting side by side, British Second Army formations which had rolled up the west end of the Germans' Ardennes salient now were out of the actual battleline, but were mopping up a few scattered pockets remaining to the rear.

On the southern areas of the partly-liquidated bulge the Third Army's 101st Airborne Division also advanced east of the Houffalize-Bastogne road, entering the village of Bourcy in a two-mile advance The 6th Armored Division advanced one and one-half miles north in the region north of Longvilly.

On the Seventh Army's front in the south a series of stiff counter-attacks marked a new German attempt to seize the initiative in Alsace

The battle raged back and forth in the enemy's Rhine bridgehead north of Strasbourg with Seventh Army troops holding the upper hand at last reports.

Once American infantry were knocked back 2,000 yards, but they regained all the lost ground and an additional 300 yards which carried them into the town of Herrlisheim where street fighting continued tonight.

In the Hatten area north of the Hagenau Forest the Germans launched another armor-supported attack this morning and there was heavy fighting all day Tonight the Americans still were believed to hold three-fourths of the town of Hatten

House-to-house fighting also continued in Rittershoffen, most of which is held by the Americans.

The only activity on the western sector of the Seventh Army's front was a small enemy patrol north of Grosrederching, seven miles southeast of Sarreguemines.

There were raids and patrols only on the First French Army front of Strasbourg

To Launch 100th Ship at Burrard

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP). — The 100th 10,000-ton cargo freighter to be built by Burrard Drydock Co. in this war will be launched here tomorrow, chalking up a record in Canadian shipbuilding annals. This is the largest wartime output of any shipyard in the Dominion.

Nanaimo Mayor On Committee

VANCOUVER, Jan 17 (CP). — Of the number of municipalities and cities interested in the proposed purchase of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company by the Province, only North Vancouver has approved the setting up of a three-man commission to study the advisability of public ownership, it was revealed tonight at a joint meeting here of mayors and reeves

It was explained that the trans-inlet city council, in office only since January 1, has not had opportunity yet to study the proposals fully.

The meeting reappointed its eight-man committee which has been negotiating with the Government but added to it the mayor of Nanaimo This committee was authorized to set up a sub-committee of three to negotiate with the Government on the selection of the three experts

Municipalities will have the right however, to send in names of prospective members of the three-man commission

Mayor J W Cornett of Vancouver said there is not likely to be any delay in appointing the commission Premier John Hart must have all the information before him when the Legislature meets February 6 as he plans to introduce the necessary legislation during the session, he stated.

There were 36 delegates present at the meeting

Russian Drive

The Germans belatedly announced that they had evacuated Warsaw without Russian interference. That they had pulled out hurriedly was obvious, and Premier Stalin quickly disclosed another probable reason for their action.

In a second order of the day he announced that the Second White Russian Army group under Marshal Konstantin R. Rokossovsky had joined the offensive, bursting [illegible] mile front northwest of Warsaw to a depth of more than 25 miles.

Since pushing out Sunday from two small bridgeheads on the west bank of the Narew River north of Warsaw, Rokossovsky's men have captured more than 500 communities, including the strong points of Makow, Pultusk, Ciechanow, Nowe Miasto and Nasielsk.

Ciechanow is but 25 miles south of the East Prussian border, and Rokossovsky's drive posed an immediate outflanking threat to that invaded German province.

The Russians remained silent, however, concerning German reports of a big Soviet offensive already in progress more than 13 miles inside East Prussia.

Rokossovsky's and Zhukov's men already were moving westward less than 290 miles from Berlin, and Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukraine Army group was 260 miles southwest of the German capital at Czestochowa.

The scope of the German retreat was so tremendous that all its salient points had not yet been brought to light, but the once strong Warsaw-Krakow defence lina had disappeared, and the German radio conceded sorrowfully:

"This is it. The Bolsheviks are out far a decision. Our soldiers are going through Hell. They [illegible] are fighting for positions but far the existence of the entire natian.

"The fighting is of unprecedented fury. Our divisions, already badly mauled by previous hard defensive fighting, havs to stick it out once more.

"The Russians are using their new Joseph Stalin super-tank on an ever-increasing scale. This, the most powerfully-gunned and armored vehicle in the world, is more than a match for our best tank, the Royal Tiger."

All Poland appeared close to liberation as the Germans admitted they would have to pull back great distances before attempting to reorganize a defence line.

The Russian communique listed 145 German tanks as knocked out during Tuesday's fighting, with today's high toll still being counted.

The Russians announced that 163 German planes were shot down Tuesday.

The Russian communique said another 50 blocks of that wrecked Hungarian capital were taken Wednesday and that 7,000 of tha garrison of Germans and Hungarians were captured Tuesday.

Foreign Policy

begins talking tomorrow in a speech that will last more than a hour.

With Greece standing out as the most controversial topic, there was talk in the House lobby tonight that Mr. Churchill may approve a proposal that a parliamentary delegation composed of members drawn from all parties go to Greece to study conditions there.

In rapid-fire order the Foreign Secretary outlined Britain's policy on these varied issues:

Italy—The Italian Government has "no right" to expect the return of colonies; the question is slated for consideration by the United Nations.

Spain—All German agents have been expelled from Tangier, but there still are some in Spanish Morocco; Republican Leader Juan Negrin was denied facilities to address a New York anti-Franco meeting from Britain as it would have meant allowing him to use the trans-Atlantic telephone which is denied to foreigners except "on the rarest possible occasions and there was no excuse for making an exception in this matter."

Poland—The British Government expressed "regret" at an article in The Soviet War News, published by the Russian Embassy in London, which referred to the Polish Gov[illegible] Hitlerite Germany."

France—Britain is not aware of any agreement between France and Russia on the slicing from Germany of the Ruhr, the Saar and the Rhine Valley, as well as parts of Pomerania and Silesia.

Soviet Russia—Mr. Eden said so far as he knew no foreign correspondents had been permanently accredited to the Red Army.

Other Allies—Allied governments in liberated countries are taking "all possible steps" to conscript their quota of men to swell the ranks of the armies of liberation, and Britain is "giving such assistance as lay in its power."

ATHENS, Jan. 17 (AP).—Newspapers in the British-occupied portions of Greece published reports today that, as a consequence of the forthcoming debate on the Greek situation in the British Parliament, a delegation of British political leaders would come to Athens for a first-hand study of the problems involved.

In Vancouver six more city schools reopened today as the teacher exchange and boarding system was extended, and six others were expected to reopen Thursday. Forty-seven of the city's 69 schools are now open.

Five city-bound automobiles had to be abandoned on Granville and 16th Streets in Vancouver today, while their passengers "thumbed" their way to work in pouring rain The cars hit a pavement cave-in, blowing out tires or breaking axles.

Fred Davison, president of the Victoria local, Street Railwaymen's Union, said last night his men would be voting today on the proposal After conferring with members of his committee yesterday afternoon, Mr. Davison said he had no predictions to make as to the outcome of the vote.

SPORTS SLANTS

By SID THOMAS

IN THE MAIL BAG

Sports Editor,

Dear Sir: Would you please look up for me the rule on the card game of Norwegian whist? What I would like to know is which person plays first, the man after the one who grands or goes high, or the one before him?

Thanking you very much,
A. B. DAN McGEOUGH
H.M.C.S. Haro, c/o F.M.O., Esquimalt, B.C., January 16, 1945.

Comment: If the game is declared to be Grand, the player on the right of the bidder (that is, before the bidder) leads (plays first). If the game is declared Nullo, the player to the left (or after) the bidder leads. If no bid, game is Nullo, and player to left of bidder leads. So says "Official Rules of Card Games," 42nd edition, endorsed by Association of American Card Manufacturers.

Maxie Turner, who played lacrosse here a few years back as a member of the Jokers and prior to that time played on the Mainland, is a physical training instructor at an Albertan Royal Canadian Air Force station, according to the latest word reaching the sports department . . . Lt. Doug Willard, former Victoria "Rep" Rugby player, was an interested spectator at yesterday's Rugby game between Victoria High School and Oak Bay High School on the former's home ground. Lt. Willard, who has been overseas as a member of the Canadian Army, will probably see action in Victoria's next McKechnie Cup fixture. . . . Answering a query: Leslie ("Wildcat") Carter, colored fighter, was born in Seattle, Wash., in 1906, according to the official boxing records. . . . Billy Townsend, Vancouver fisticuffer who made a number of appearances here in the heyday of the cauliflower pastime, was born on May 6, 1910, at Vancouver. Have been unable to trace the birth date of Vic Foley, another Mainland scrapper, who also fought under the Jack Allen banner . . . It was just about 14 years ago that C. V. Milton, former toastmaster and now secretary of the Elks Club, wrote "The Story of Football." The book sold for 10 cents and proceeds from the sale went to the Greater Victoria Playing Fields Association. . . . Lt. Jack [illegible], another former member of Victoria's Crimson Tide on numerous occasions, is also in the city, and members of Victoria Rugby Union would like nothing better than to add him to the present squad. A star performer and a player who has "booted" Victoria "Reps" to victory in more than one fixture, his addition to the Crimson Tide would enhance their chances of victory against Vancouver and the Varsity fifteens. . . . Jimmy Braddock, New Jersey scrapper who gave up stevedoring to fight his way to the heavyweight championship of the world, was awarded an unpopular ten-round decision over Leo Lomski, Aberdeen, in a light-heavyweight bout at Chicago 15 years ago today. Braddock annexed the world's heavyweight crown in 1935 and lost it to Joe Louis (the Detroit Bomber) two years later. Braddock included Victoria on his tour while he was champion and appeared in an exhibition affair at Bay Street Armoury. Joe Gould, his dapper little manager, was there with him on that trip.

Phil Palmer, 19-year-old Vancouver scrapper, who worked at Victoria Machinery Depot here, continues to make a good showing in "big time" fisticuffing in the United States. . . . Russ Latham, Oak Bay High School student and one of the scoring stars of Manager Alf Richards' Oak Bay soccer team, is equally at home on the English Rugby front, where he has been turning in some smart exhibitions for Oak Bay High School. . . . Gill Bishop, playing coach and high-scoring forward of Fort Lewis Warrior cage quintette, says the biggest thrill he received during his ten years in the [illegible] pastime came when Abe Saperstein, manager of the Harlem Globe Trotters, named him as one of the greatest basketball players in the game today. . . . When Noel Morgan, Victoria West soccer player, takes his position at centre forward next Sunday against the Royal Canadian Navy, it will be his first match in more than a month. And, what's more, the Greenshirts' star is all enthused about his new position. . . . Charlie Restell drops back to his old position of halfback, after doing a pretty fair job at centre forward. Unless we miss our guess, Restell will still have visions of scoring and we will not be surprised if he bags a couple of tallies for the Greenshirts.

Coast League Would Double Play-Off Pool

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16 (AP) — A Pacific Coast Baseball League executive committee today recommended that player awards in the Governor's Cup play-off series be doubled and the performers also be paid at their regular salary rate for the post-season time.

Under the recommendation, which has been submitted to the league directors for a telegraphic vote, the players on the pennant-winning club would get $5,000. The four teams in the play-offs would split this year: $10,000 to the winners, $5,000 to the defeated team in the final play-off, and $2,500 each to the teams eliminated in the first play-off series. In each case the sum is double what it was.

Barons and Bears Battle to 1-1 Tie

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 17 (AP). — Cleveland's Barons and Hershey Bears played their fourth American Hockey League tie in five games this season, 1-1, before 8,874 here tonight.

The deadlock put the Barons five points behind Indianapolis, leaders in the league's Western Division.

Both goals were made in the last period, Harold Cooper scoring for Hershey and Lou Trudel for Cleveland.

Victoria XV Rallies to Beat Oak Bay

Ron Dakers, hard-driving backfielder and captain of the Victoria High School ruggers, yesterday booted his teammates to a 5-3 victory over Oak Bay High School in an Intermediate League fixture played at the Fernwood Road ground.

Trailing by three points by virtue of a first-half try by Oak Bay, Victoria came back to knot the score in the early stages of the final half and won the game when Dakers kicked the extra point.

Play was fast and rugged from the first kick-off with the territorial advantage being in favor of the eventual winners. Victoria displayed some good backfield runs, but failure to pass the ball reduced their scoring opportunities.

Taking advantage of weak defensive play by their opponents, Oak Bay moved ahead 3-0 15 minutes after the kick-off when Lawrence Bates, wing three-quarter, dribbled a loose ball over the opposing line. Richards failed to convert.

Early in the final half Dave Minckler, Oak Bay, retired with a cut eye, leaving the team with 14 players. Battling hard to increase their lead Oak Bay came close to scoring, Hugh Warrender being stopped five yards from the line.

Taking up the offensive, Victoria drove deep into opposition territory and following a five-yard scrum went over for the equalizing points. Gordon Hunter carried the ball. Ron Dakers, kicking from almost immediately in front of the uprights, booted the extra points to make the final score 5-3.

FOOTBALL SOCIAL

Victoria West soccer players are invited to a social at the home of Harry Youson, 545 Dalton Street, this evening. Those planning to attend are asked to meet at Yates and Douglas Streets at 7.30 o'clock for transportation.

Lach Takes Over Lead in Scoring

Elmer Lach, of the high-scoring Canadiens' line of Richard-Blake-Lach, collected one goal last night when the Montrealers defeated Chicago, 4-2, and moved out in front in the National Hockey League's "big seven" one point ahead of Teammate Toe Blake.

Maurice (Comet) Richard who, with Blake went pointless, retained his third place berth a single point above Boston's Bill Cowley, who collected two assists Tuesday evening when the Bruins handed the Toronto Maple Leafs a 5-3 setback. Leaders follow:

Lach, Montreal	14	33	47
Blake, Montreal	20	26	46

Gil Dodds, Holder of World's Indoor Mile Record, Retires

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP) — Word was received from Stockholm today that Gunder Haegg, Swedish track star, had completed plans for his Winter trip to the United States just a few hours after Gil Dodds, expected to be his major American rival, said he would be unable to compete during the coming season.

Charles Johnson, secretary of the Swedish Amateur Athletic Group, told The Associated Press in Stockholm that all the plans had been completed for Haegg and Hurdler Hakon Lidman to reach the United States by February 2.

Dodds, who lowered the indoor mile time to 4:06.4 at Chicago last Spring announced his retirement in a letter to Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the A.A.U., in which he said that he expected to leave Sunday for Los Angeles to take up ministerial duties with a Gospel group.

The native Nebraskan completes his studies at the Gordon Theological School this week. He may compete in a two-mile race at Boston, Saturday.

Much of Haegg's competition is expected to be furnished by Jim Rafferty, of New York, who has done 4:11, and Rudy Simms, ineligible New York University athlete, who is the national 1,500 metre king.

Students Win Over West Road

Five games in the various divisions of Victoria and District Basketball League were played last night. At High School gymnasium, Chinese Students walloped a weakened West Road club, 36-18, Hudson's Bay won by default from the winless Sports Club in the women's section and St. Louis College junior boys handed K.V.'s one of their infrequent defeats, 24-18. Two intermediate "B" games were played at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium and Eagles and K.V.'s, co-leaders in this group, kept pace with each other by winning handily, the former measuring V.M.D., 43-21, and the latter scoring over St. Louis College, 37-26.

Chinese Students and West Road put on one of the most hilarious battles of the year. The latter were weakened by the loss of players and had only five men in uniform, fading badly in the second quarter to let the Students amass a huge lead. From there on the game became progressively rougher as some of the West Road players made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in finesse and at the finish flying tackles were quite a common occurrence. Students were best served by W. Lee and "Bung" Derr, who tossed in some neat baskets, but the whole club turned in a tricky, speedy performance.

Sports Club were only able to dress three players and lost by default but an exhibition game was played with four of the Hudson's Bay changing over. Apparently not sure which side they were on, the girls again bunched badly but eventually the department store girls came out on the long end, 17-14.

Playing at the Y.M.C.A., K.V.'s had little trouble with St. Louis College, taking an early lead and then coasting in. Half-time score was 20-11. Long, with 13 points and Thompson, 9, led the scoring for the winners. French had a big night for the College, hanging up 16 points.

In the second game, Eagles also ran up an early advantage in the first quarter and eased in to more than double the count on the winless Shipyarders, 43-21. Page, Slang and Browning paced the winners in the scoring columns while Smith was high for the losers.

Teams and scores follow:

Cochrane and Hoppe To Play in Seattle

SEATTLE, Jan. 17 (AP) — A series of three-cushion billiards matches will be played in Seattle some time in May by Welker Cochrane and Willie Hoppe, it was announced today.

The exact dates for the matches, which will be held at the Washington Athletic Club, have not been fixed.

Table Tennis Champions to Defend Titles

With practically all of last year's champions on hand to defend their honors, play in the annual Victoria city table tennis championships will get under way at the Crystal Garden on Wednesday, January 24, and will continue until January 27. Play will start at 7.15 each evening.

Champions will be named in 10 events: Men's singles, ladies' singles, men's doubles, ladies' doubles, mixed doubles, junior singles, junior doubles, handicap singles, senior "B" singles and veterans' singles.

Art Barran, defending titleholder, will have stiff competition in the men's singles. Ray Dawson, club champion and present league leader, Will Browne-Cave, winner of the city title on six occasions and Western Canadian finalist in 1941, Jim Bennie, Vancouver, finalist in the tourney last year, Vic Tully, former city champ and twice finalist in Western Canadian championship play, and George Lowe, Chinese flash who is Western Canadian champion, will provide the main threat to Barran.

Chief threat to the honors held by Joy Payne in the ladies' singles will come from Ruth Payne, present Western Canadian, British Columbia and club champion, Barbara McKay, Pacific Coast titleholder and former Pacific Northwest finalist, and Nancy Ley, junior star, who has two victories over Joy Payne to her credit. Reta Reid, Thelma Brown, Valerie McIver, Georgina Wilson and Audrey Downham are also entered.

Some interesting competition seems assured in the men's doubles with three strong entries intent on unseating Barran and Bennie, winners last year. Dawson and Tully, Browne-Cave and Keith Olsen, junior star, and Lowe and Peter Lou Poy are all combinations capable of going all the way.

The Payne sisters, holders of the ladies' doubles, will again rule as favorites to repeat. New mixed doubles champions will be crowned. With the Ruth Payne-Walker combination not on hand to defend their laurels, Joy Payne and Browne-Cave, Barbara McKay and Tully and Nancy Ley and Art Barran are definite possibilities.

Other titleholders who will defend their championships are Stan Ngai, junior singles, Olsen and Southern, junior doubles; A. Downham, handicap singles, and Jimmy Hair, Vancouver, veterans' singles.

Entries will have to be filed with Vic Tully, tournament chairman, not later than Monday, January 22.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17 (AP) — Montreal Canadiens, with a three-goal scoring burst in the second period, stopped a rejuvenated band of Chicago Black Hawks, 4-2, in a National Hockey League game before 11,903 fans here tonight.

Kenny Mosdell scored the first goal for Montreal after seven minutes and 45 seconds of play in the first period, and then, with but 27 seconds of the period remaining, Johnny Harms, on an assist by Butch McDonald, tied the count.

The Canadiens came back to take the lead again after one minute and four seconds of play in the second period with Buddy O'Connor scoring the goal, on an assist from Dutch Hiller. Then, in the closing minutes of the period, Montreal added two more in quick succession to sew up the victory. Elmer Lach scored the first on passes from Leo Lamoureux and Butch Bouchard.

Ray Getliffe caught the Black Hawk defence flat-footed as he took the puck near the boards in mid-ice, and skated down to push in a goal from six feet in front of the net.

The Black Hawks' second counter came with 51 seconds of play remaining.

"Red" Mitchell came out of a flurry of sticks and players to count the tally, with assists by Pete Horeck and Cully Dahlstrom.

Major League Clubs Losing Many Players

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP) — Manpower demands continued to bite deeper into major league reserves today as the number of big time baseball players entering the service since the close of the 1944 season rose to at least 24 as compared to six discharged veterans who may return to the game.

Although the number of players who left their clubs was less than 5 per cent of the total on the reserve lists, many more entered essential industry and jobs helping the war effort, giving no hint of their 1945 plans.

Joe Cronin's Boston Red Sox, nicked heavily last Summer when Tex Hughson, Bobby Doerr and Hal Wagner were called up in the thick of the four-way American League pennant fight, again were the hardest hit.

Catchers Bill Conroy and Roy Partee, Third Baseman Jim Tabor and "Rookie" Pitcher Mel Deutsch, up from Louisville, joined such stars as Ted Williams, Dom DiMaggio and Johnny Pesky in the service of their country.

Even the St. Louis Cardinals, the world champions, who were generally accepted to be the only real big league club last season, lost Pitcher Fred Schmidt and will give up Outfielder Stan Musial to the navy Friday.

SEATTLE, Jan. 17 (AP) — The Washington Athletic Club swimming team, beaten once 45 to 38, will take another crack at the Y.M.C.A. team of Victoria in a return match here March 17, Ray Daughters, W.A.C. swimming coach and athletic director, announced today.

The match will comprise 10 events each for boys and girls.

Baseball Could Use Byrnes as Commissioner

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP) — An idea was spreading today that Jimmy Byrnes is the fellow that baseball could well use as its new commissioner.

From various sources this appraisal came of the war mobilization director.

He has demonstrated in recent weeks in a series of important decisions that he has the tough, unwavering type of mind that baseball wants in its big boss.

Some of his decisions have been aimed straight at professional sports, hitting racing and 4-F athletes.

Strangely, the effect of these decisions within athletic circles generally has been to stir admiration of the aggressive "Assistant President" and the view is expressed that if baseball is looking for a trouble-shooter who will crack the whip over the game the way Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis did, it might find him in Jimmy Byrnes.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 17 (AP) — Oregon State College snared third place in Northern Division, Pacific Coast Conference basketball standings tonight with a 48-36 win over Washington State.

THOUGH vanished today from the realm of sport, as Merrill Denison tells us in Klondike Mike, high kicking was still a common event in athletic meets of the 90's. There were three general variations: the running high kick; the hitch and kick, and the double kick. The first was virtually a kick imposed on a running high jump, the second was a kick superimposed on a standing jump, the third, a standing kick first with one leg and then the other. The recognized world's record for the running high kick is 8 feet 8 inches, made by C. C. Lee, at New Haven on March 19, 1887; for the hitch and kick, 9 feet 1 inch, made by C. H. Wilburn at Annapolis, June 6, 1888, and for the double kick, 8 feet [illegible] inches, made by B. C. Trout, at Aurora, Ill., November 20, 1901.

Taxation in Need Of Revision Says Bank President

TORONTO, Jan. 17. — Canada's tax structure needs revision as present taxes will curb the incentive to work and save, F. H. Marsh, president of the Bank of Toronto, told shareholders at the annual meeting

"The tax structure which was built up hastily to meet the immediate needs of the war, is unfitted for the future. Its effect is to curb incentives to work and to save, and under the excess profits levy, the expansion of a business through internal growth is practically impossible. One of the first needs for postwar Canada is a complete overhaul of taxation which must be accomplished with vision and a determination to see that honest effort is not stifled," Mr. Marsh said.

Mr. Marsh said he sincerely hoped that some workable reform would result from the detailed study which was now being made at Ottawa of the entire problem of succession duties in combination with income tax as applied to business life.

Mr. Marsh said a socialistic movement in Canada sought to take from the tens of thousands of shareholders their ownership of the banks and vest that ownership in a state monopoly. This movement had also made it clear, he said, that the intention was to use the vast pool of bank deposits as a national fund to finance "grandiose schemes of so-called planned economy."

In his report B. S. Vanstone, general manager, stated that after providing for all bad and doubtful debts as well as all contingencies which can be foreseen, the contribution of $250,000 to officers' pension net profits amounted to $1,146,271, an increase of $66,463 compared with those of the previous year. For the first time in the history of the bank total assets crossed the 300 million dollar mark and at $302,040,000 show an increase of $41,965,000 for the year.

Edmonton, capital city of the Province of Alberta, is the commercial and distributing centre for the northern part of the province, including the rich agricultural area of the Peace River Valley.

Focal point for a network of railways, Edmonton also is a strategic centre for air transportation; its great airport is of a major importance in present and prospective developments in commercial aviation.

During the past five years the city's debenture debt has been substantially reduced, tax collections have shown consistent gains and are well in excess of current levies.

Proceeds of the current issue of debentures will be used entirely for refunding purposes.

Magistrate Grants Remand of Week in Chinese Cabin Cases

Nineteen Chinese, most of them past middle-age, appeared in city police court yesterday morning in answer to summonses for failing to act on notices to leave cabins at the rear of 525 Pisgard Street. Warrants were ordered issued for 16 others who [illegible]

Of the 19, 16 pleaded guilty through Jack Yip, Chinese interpreter, and were remanded one week on recommendation of C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, to give them an opportunity to find other living quarters.

Originally 58 men occupied the premises. Eviction notices were issued in November, and before sum- [illegible] some had left. Charges against six others were withdrawn in court yesterday, as they had also left.

Chow Quon, first to be charged in court, explained through the interpreter that he was unable to find other accommodation. John Ho, the next, said he would move when he found a place. Chan Ping stated he had been searching for a room for three weeks. Another named only John, who walked with the aid of a stick, testified according to the interpreter that in his opinion the men should be given two or three months to move.

Most aged of the group was Wong Kon Louim, who held a colored cane to support himself and was helped forward to the magistrate by the court officer. After pleading guilty he was permitted to sit on the constable's chair, while most of the others stood near the prisoner's box.

The other 13 who pleaded guilty were Chong To, Chew Yen, Dong Hoy, Jong Chong, Lee Jim, Lee Lun, Lou Ping, Leong Mow, Louie Chong Wong, Wong Yock, Yuen Wing and Yee Yue.

Wong Sang stated he was in charge of the cabins, was not residing there when his summons was served, and had now been asked by the owner to stay and take care of the building.

Lt.-Col. H. L. Sherwood was elected chairman of Victoria Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada during the annual meeting in Spencer's dining-room last Tuesday. Others named included S. R. Weston, vice-chairman; R. Bowering, secretary-treasurer; J. N. Anderson, Lt.-Cmdr. P. B. Hughes, A. L. Lord and G. M. Irwin, executive members, and A. S. G. Civil Defence Fights Fires

Advisory Council of the Civilian Protection Committee disclosed yesterday that auxiliary fire services using Civil Defence equipment saved property valued at more than $2,300,000 from December, 1941, to December, 1944. Total value of property saved was $725,030 last year, compared with $693,400 in 1943.

In service at the end of last December were 50 Bickle-Seagrave pumps of 500 gallons per minute capacity, 182 pumps of 150 gallons per minute capacity, 141 forestry-type pumps and 950,000 feet of hose. All of the equipment was provided by the Federal Government.

The bulk of fires attended were in areas which, prior to receiving Civil Defence equipment, were without any form of protection.

Duncan Business Men Make Plans

DUNCAN, Jan. 17—At a meeting of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday evening, with the president, F. G. Aldersey, in the chair, it was decided to ask Mr. Matthison, Dominion Council of Physical Fitness to address the February meeting and to make known the aims and policies of the youth centre project.

J. B. Acland was appointed chairman of the tourist committee in place of W. E. Bamford, who has left the district.

The question of the desirability of daylight saving from March to October came up for discussion, and it was decided to circularize members to get their views on the matter. The meeting considered it neither necessary nor desirable.

Mr. Acland raised the question of the expected shortage of electric energy in the district, and it was decided to ask Hon. H. G. T. Perry, chairman of the Provincial Rehabilitation Committee, for any information available concerning the supply of light and power facilities in the Nanaimo-Duncan utilities area.

Haavey Lowe, chairman of the local Rehabilitation Committee, reported that many merchants felt that store hours should be considered, some being of the opinion that shorter hours would be beneficial to all.

Scarcity of fish in the Cowichan River was discussed and the belief expressed that a dam built at Lake Cowichan to maintain water level of the river at spawning time would be of the greatest value. It was decided to ask members of the local Fish and Game Association to attend the March meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to make suggestions on how conditions could be improved.

W.C. Tad Cole, left, West Vancouver, Nighthawk Squadron Mosquito pilot, shows W.O. Fitchett shot down the first enemy plane for the Nighthawks after they moved to France, where they are now operating.

To Build Bridge—While Salmon River third crossing bridge is under construction, the Sayward Road between Menzies Bay and Kelsey Bay will be closed to traffic, according to a notice published by O. W. Smith, district engineer, Department of Public Works.

Plan Houses—To provide a site for houses for workmen, for water supply right of way and for general operations in the production of fish meal, fish oil and canned goods, the Provincial Cabinet has lifted the reserve on 17 acres on Cook Channel in the vicinity of Nootka, desired by the Nootka Packing Co. (1937), Ltd. An order in council lifting the reserve was passed this week.

Housing Registry—Mrs. W. F. Rayfuse, manager of the National Housing Registry here, stated yesterday the organization is operating as usual, and appointment of a resident representative of the emergency shelter administration would not interrupt work of the registry. She hoped appointment of a shelter officer here would result in an improvement to the housing situation.

Attend Fires—Saanich firemen attended a fire at the Salvage Corps of British Columbia Depot, Cloverdale Avenue, at 8.15 o'clock last night. Cause of the fire was a pot used for boiling grease. Firemen also attended a chimney fire at the home of T. Lidstone, corner Cadboro Bay and Sinclair Roads, at 8.15 o'clock. No damage was reported at either fire.

Court of Appeal Victoria Sittings

At the opening of the court yesterday, M. B. Jackson, K.C., spoke to the appeal in Clelland vs. Clelland, and had the hearing made peremptory for January 24.

The only appeal argued was that from sentence in Rex vs. Frank Ross. Capt. H. W. R. Moore appeared for the Crown and T. F. Hurley for the appellant.

The accused was convicted by Magistrate Wood on December 7 for carrying a revolver on his person without a permit, and was sentenced to two years, and at the opening of the argument, Mr. Hurley advised the court he was withdrawing his appeal against conviction and would ask only for reduction of sentence.

The accused was night watchman in the employ of Bowman Storage Company to look after certain buildings on Powell Street in Vancouver and while proceeding from one building to the other on the evening of December 2, heard screams emanating from a shack along the way. He immediately telephoned the police, and remained near by. The owner of the shack returning home from work found a drunken party in progress and his shack on fire. On attempting to put out the fire with water from the well the accused threatened him with his gun and ordered him back into the shack. However the owner paid no attention to him and extinguished the fire.

The police arrived and disarmed Ross and took him into custody.

Mr. Hurley asked for a more lenient sentence on the grounds his client was a man of 66 years, a foreigner but had several years' service in the last war, a long period of which had been spent with the 8th Battalion in France. He claimed there was no criminal intent involved, but that the accused in his ignorance and over enthusiasm really thought he had the authority of a police officer.

The court allowed the appeal, wiped out the sentence, and sentenced him to the time he had already served and a fine of $200 and in default of payment an extra two months' imprisonment.

The court adjourned till Monday when judgment in Jardene vs. Northern Co-operative Timber & Mill Association will be rendered at 11 o'clock.

Peremptory List: Penosuk vs. McQuarrie.

The Pekin Court Gazette, China was 640 years old when the first newspaper was printed in Europe in 1524.

Protest Highway Plan

W. L. Hardie, 1770 Gonzales Avenue, and four other nearby residents, yesterday submitted a petition to the city against a proposal to build an arterial highway to Oak Bay by way of Gonzales Avenue.

The petition claimed the highway would destroy quietness there, would depreciate value of property, be a hazard to school children, and cause a five-point junction at Richmond Road and Despard Avenue. Fewer homes would be affected by an alternative Richardson Street route, petitioners asserted, and that route would be cheaper.

Tax Collections

More owners of small homes rather than corporations, have prepaid 1945 taxes so far this year, according to a report of the city assessor-collector's department yesterday that showed total 1945 receipts so far to be $318,793, including some paid in 1944. Early taxpayers benefit by a 5 per cent discount computed on the period ending September 30.

Total 1945 collections so far this week were below those for the corresponding figure last year as several large corporations had not yet paid.

D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller-treasurer, reported the final figure on 1944 current tax receipts as $1,370,295, which was 94.417 per cent of the levy. The percentage collection is a record as far back as 1912, the first year that comparable records were kept. Estimated current collections were 92.5 per cent. Arrears collected in 1944 were $118,228.

Renovate Y.M.C.A.

Contracts for the redecoration of 30 Y.M.C.A. dormitory rooms on the second floor have been let and work will commence in the near future, J. V. Johnson, chairman of the house committee, reported at a recent board of directors meeting. Furniture replaced will be used to renovate other rooms.

Dr. Clifford Carl noted that the [illegible] was one of the highlights in December. The workshop was installed by the Kiwanis Club and 60 persons were present for the opening.

Report of the physical education department showed that 131 sessions had been held with an attendance of 2,368. Ray Parfitt, chairman of the social and educational groups, reported that 2,911 persons had attended the 60 affairs sponsored by the various Y.M.C.A. groups.

Letters sent out in an appeal for help for the Y.M.C.A. World Emergency Services had brought in $330 to date, Frank Paulding, general secretary, stated in his report. Regular classes of the Camera Club were expected to commence again with the easing of the supply situation, he said.

Plans Inquest On Two Deaths

An inquest will be held, probably on Friday, into the death of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Peard yesterday morning in a bungalow at 260 Gorge Road apparently as a result of revolver shots. Announcement of the inquest was made by Dr. E. C. Hart, the coroner.

Police, who were called to the scene at 11.50 o'clock, reported that Mrs. Peard, aged about 69, was found in bed with a bullet hole over her left eye, and her husband, aged about 70, was found on the floor near the bed in a pool of blood, with a bullet wound in the throat. A .45 calibre Webley revolver with two spent shells lay near his feet.

Dr. Hart said Mrs. Peard was undoubtedly shot in her sleep. He said the incident apparently occurred between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Peard, who was proprietor of The Anchorage, a Brentwood establishment selling light meals and renting boats for fishing, was reported to have been suffering from heart trouble.

No one reported hearing revolver shots, although other bungalows are within ten feet of the Peard's three-room home. The bodies were discovered by a maid when she entered the room.

Detective-inspector J. H. Rogers directed investigation of the incident by Detectives F. Woodburn, Louis Callon and David Donaldson, Sgt. Thomas Banister and Constables Ray Maitland and Brooke Douglass.

Surviving is a son, Henry Anthony Peard, Brentwood Bay. Mr. and Mrs. Peard had moved to the Gorge Road bungalow less than two months ago, intending to make their home there.

Malahat, Vancouver Island headquarters.

Lieut. Hooper said yesterday that the Whytecliffe camp would again receive 2,000 cadets during the Summer. Last year H.M.C.S. Malaspina, R.C.N. patrol vessel, took many cadets on their first navy cruise.

An augmented Summer syllabus for Sea Cadets is being arranged and the R.C.N. will supply five 16-foot sailing dinghies with full equipment.

Prices Board Officers Heard At Trial Involving Rationing

W. Buchanan, who was a Wartime Prices and Trade Board investigator last year, testified in city police court yesterday that reports of servings at the St. [illegible] Cafe in the first six months of 1944 were far higher than the figure arrived at by a W.P.T.B. formula. Evidence was given in the trial of Mrs. Kodila C. Kallops, proprietor of the cafe, charged with making false statements for use of the W.P.T.B. in setting quotas of rationed goods.

Mrs. Kallops, one of six cafe proprietors who pleaded not guilty to similar charges recently, was remanded to next Wednesday for continuation of the hearing. J. B. Clearihue, K.C., is prosecuting counsel and A. J. Patton and P. J. Sinnott appear for the defence.

Mr. Buchanan said the cafe had reported serving 85,095 full meals in the six months, whereas his formula showed only 37,109 served. He said his calculation was based on average figures taken in three days of Sep- [illegible] and then cost, which were compared with revenue returns made by the cafe. Gross revenue for the first eight months of 1944 was given as $31,081.

A. B. Food, Victoria ration officer, said quotas of rationed foods were based on return of servings made, modified by the amount of the quota used by the cafe.

Winnifred Pearce, proprietor of the former Paget's Coffee Shop, Fort Street, was charged yesterday with the same offence as Mrs. Kallops and the others. Represented by John L. Clay, she was remanded to next Wednesday.

Plan $125,000 Home for Blind

Capt. M. C. Robinson, national director, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, announced here yesterday Premier John Hart had advised that, in the event of private subscriptions towards the proposed residence for the blind reaching $100,000, the Provincial Government would subscribe the additional $25,000 necessary.

"This is the kind of challenge we like," said Capt. Robinson, "and I am assured by many of those interested that a minimum of $100,000 will be subscribed in the near future. This gesture on the part of the Provincial Government is in addition to the annual grant to the C.N.I.B. which enables our organization to maintain the high standard of social service to the blind that is in keeping with the Government's outstanding social service program."

Leadership for the project to provide satisfactory and comfortable residential care for the blind people of British Columbia without relatives, and who cannot be satisfactorily accommodated in private homes, has been given by Austin C. Taylor, Vancouver. He has been joined in the project by a number of citizens and firms in Victoria, Vancouver, and other cities in the province.

"The sympathetic consideration and generous response to this appeal is a source of great satisfaction to me," said Capt. Robinson, "and it will be a source of lasting comfort and happiness to those sightless people whose lives will be affected."

Plans and suggestions for such a residence are being obtained from many cities throughout the United States and Great Britain.

National Service for Youths After War, Nelles Advises

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP).—Admiral [illegible] Percy W. Nelles, former chief of the Canadian Naval Mission overseas, in an interview today advocated a system of national service in peacetime with youths spending a year "on the coasts, in the air and in the pioneer areas of the country."

He said he had learned a lesson from this war on the need for national security and he thought that national service and development of the Canadian Merchant Navy to insure a good supply of trained seamen should become part of Canada's postwar program.

"I hope Canada will arrange for succeeding generations to have the opportunity for a year or more of national service, either on the coasts, in the air or in the pioneer areas of the country," he said.

"Apart from the benefit to their health and understanding they might well be repaid for this service [illegible] distance immediately after their discharge. The solid advantages of national service should be made plain to everyone to forestall opposition from any considerable group, particularly if a similar system is adopted in the United States, as seems likely.

"After 35 years in the navy you can expect me to have strong feelings on our ability to protect ourselves.

"We succeeded in building an effective navy in short order, but the risk was altogether too great. Figures show that Canada spent one-half as much as the other Dominions to protect herself before the war, one-fifth as much as the Americans, and one-eighth the British expenditure. We are living in a fool's paradise and any dissensions we have today come from those years of neglect."

He did not give comparative expenditure figures.

Complete Repairs to Steel Hog Fuel Hull

Repairs have been completed to the steel hull of Island Carrier, hog-fuel barge owned and operated by Island Tug and Barge, Ltd. While tied up at the company dock, the 3,375-ton vessel was completely overhauled and repainted.

With a fuel carrying capacity of 2,000 units of coarse sawdust, roughly 6,000 tons, the former sailing ship will resume operations between Vancouver Island and Puget Sound. She is towed by the sturdy tug Snohomish, using a two-inch steel cable. The Island Carrier will load hog fuel at Port Alberni.

Formerly a four-masted square-rigged sailing ship, one of the largest in the world at the time she was built in 1892, the Island Carrier had an interesting career.

She was launched in Scotland for the German Government, and during the Great War was confiscated by the United States as a prize of war. The ship's name was then Somali. The Island Tug and Barge, Ltd., purchased the vessel a number of years ago from the Pacific Coyle Navigation Co., Vancouver, which had used the ship as a log-carrying barge.

More than 300 feet long, with a beam of 47 feet, the massive hull has a draught of 27 feet, and has a crew of four, including the captain.

Fire in Navy Yard

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 17 (AP).—Twenty-one persons were injured, one severely, late today in a fire at the Norfolk Navy Yard Annex at St. Helena which damaged a pier and "two or three small naval vessels at the pier," naval officers reported tonight.

District headquarters said the fire "was confined to the area of the pier but is still burning."

The blaze was said to have started from sparks from a welder's torch.

Armored Train Carrying Two Guns Used in B.C. Early in the War

TRANSCONA, Man., Jan. 17 (CP).—An armored train [illegible] here in the early part of the war, it was revealed today. Transcona is eight miles east of Winnipeg.

The train, consisting of an armored locomotive, equipped with a Diesel-engine unit and four cars, was used for a long period in British Columbia. It traveled with the locomotive in the centre and two cars on each end. Guns were mounted on each end.

Last year when the menace of a Japanese invasion disappeared, the train was broken up and its rolling stock returned to normal service.

Reserves Decision

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP).—The National War Labor Board today reserved its decisions on applications on behalf of dining and sleeping car employees of the Canadian National Railways and dining car service employees of the Canadian Pacific Railways for adjustments in arrangements relating to overtime and overtime pay.

The C.P.R. employees were represented by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the C.N.R. group by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers (C.C.L.). The hearing centred on proposals for review of previous board decisions.

Retires After 42 Years' Service

WINNIPEG, Jan. 17 (CP).—S. J. (Jack) Greenway, pioneer Western telegrapher, today retired after 42 years service in the Winnipeg office of the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs. He was night chief operator for 22 years.

Mr. Greenway was the first telegraph operator in the West to send a play-by-play account of hockey matches direct from the rinkside.

He "covered" many games in the early days in which the famous Kenora Thistles, Montreal Wanderers and Winnipeg Victorias fought for hockey supremacy.

Liquid in Law

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 17 (AP).—Because the indictment failed to allege whether drowning occurred in water or other liquid, the Court of Criminal Appeals today reversed a death sentence assessed Chesley Arthur Gragg of Dallas, in the barrow pit death of his wife, Flora Gragg, June 16, 1943.

Whereupon District Attorney Dean Gauldin, who prosecuted the case, commented at Dallas:

"Do we have to convince the Court of Criminal Appeals that every time it rains, it is water, and not maple syrup?"

The court ordered prosecution under the indictment dismissed. This does not bar reindictment, the opinion noted.

EYEMOUTH, Scotland (CP).—Six of the crew of a fishing boat were drowned when the vessel struck a rock after the engine failed only 50 yards from the harbor mouth in this Berwickshire town.

Wreck of Tolmie Falling Apart

The S. F. Tolmie, former four-masted barkentine which was wrecked on the jagged rocks of Macaulay Point during a heavy gale on the night of December 27, is gradually disintegrating. Winds and tides have already caused one complete side of the vessel to break away and settle further along the beach.

Each day that passes sees more planks fall off and drift away. Several of the three-inch timbers have actually brushed alongside the piers which now take the place of the Cholberg Shipyard on the Industrial Reserve, from where the 238-foot ship was launched in December, 1920.

Efforts to salvage the 1,612-ton barge were abandoned early in the year, and she was sold to Island Tug and Barge, Ltd. Since that time practically all useful equipment has been taken off. On the company docks rests a large gasoline-powered log loader, which was taken off the ship along with the anchor, chains, pumps and other items.

When weather conditions permit, the tug company will complete removal of the wreckage.

The S. F. Tolmie broke away from moorings at Ogden Point docks during a strong southeast gale, and drifted broadside across half a mile of water in 15 minutes. High waves and a heavy wind lifted the vessel high on to the rocks. She was the last log-carrying barge on the Pacific Coast and was originally built at a cost of $300,000.

Keywords for the Day: Moderation, judgment.

Thursday in General—This day is mixed and the period centreing around noontime is the most favorable for contacts with others and for gaining and maintaining a constructive slant on things. Prior to and after this time tends to be somewhat inharmonious and greater than ordinary moderation, good judgment and tact will be called for.

If January 18 Is Your Birthdate

Many happy returns! Famous persons born on this date include Cary Grant, movie actor; Daniel Webster, statesman and orator; Joseph Dickson, inventor of graphite lead pencils.

Your Year Ahead: It offers opportunities along lines of associations with others' ideas, promotion of personal interests, but it calls for extra careful judgment especially in connection with writings, papers, partnerships.

Do you wake up Refreshed ?

● Do you sleep soundly and wake up refreshed, clear eyed and buoyant, ready for the day's work? Or are your nights restless and disturbed, your mornings spoiled by fatigue and exhaustion? If you've been waking tired and listless, why not do as thousands today are doing—simply drink a cup of Ovaltine warm at bedtime. For Ovaltine does three things to bring vigorous morning freshness.

(1) Taken warm at bedtime, it relieves that feeling of nervous tension—and helps the body to relax for sleep without drugs. (2) Processed for easy digestion, it supplies light nourishment to prevent restless tossing and turning due to digestive unrest. (3) It supplies a variety and wealth of important food elements to rebuild body and nerve cells, replenish vitality to meet the morning.

Ovaltine furnishes not only essential vitamins, but also a combination of minerals, high quality proteins and quick energy food elements which authorities agree are necessary for health and top vitality.

So if you sleep poorly—waken tired and listless—why not turn to Ovaltine as an aid to refreshing sleep and clear-eyed, radiant morning freshness. See if you don't begin to wake up each morning brighter, and more buoyant—ready to greet the day with a smile.

Churchill Had Many Escapes

LONDON, Jan. 17 (CP).—Prime Minister Churchill dodged snipers' bullets in Athens when he was there recently in an effort to conciliate warring Greek factions and for the 21st time in his career he sidestepped death.

In 1897 on the Indian frontier tribesmen attacked and killed his companion. He frightened off the Pathans with revolver shots.

On the Western Front in the first Great War he had two narrow escapes. Called away from company command posts he returned to find the posts shelled and the occupants all killed.

In 1919, Mr. Churchill flew across the Channel in a plane which caught fire over Lympne. The pilot was forced to leave the controls to extinguish the fire and the plane dived to 200 feet before control was regained.

In the Summer that year Mr. Churchill was piloting an aircraft that went out of control and side-slipped at 90 feet, hitting the ground at high speed. Mr. Churchill's companion died.

In 1931, he was knocked down by a motor car in New York. his scalp was cut to the bone and he was some time in hospital unconscious.

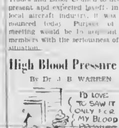
High Blood Pressure

By Dr. J. B. WARREN



I'D LOVE TO SAW IT ONLY FOR MY BLOOD PRESSURE!

If you [illegible] in the ordinary work [illegible] sometimes do very hard work [illegible] which you feel no bad results and the blood pressure goes up during the exercise and comes down again in reasonable time then there is no reason for you to worry about your blood pressure. However if your blood pressure is always high it is not a normal condition and you should let your physician find the cause. Sometimes some simple thing is causing high blood pressure which can be removed. If an organic condition—hardening of blood vessels—is cause, careful living will add years to your life.

Pete Wywrot, Ironman forward, topped the scorers with four goals and two assists, three of the goals coming in succession in the second period. Wally Stanowski Rejected by Army

TORONTO, Jan. 17 (CP).—A Canadian army official in Toronto said today that Wally Stanowski, defenceman of the Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League, has been rejected for army service. It was reported from Winnipeg last night that Stanowski had been accepted by the army and had been given leave of one week before reporting for duty.

Zurita-Thomas Title Fight Is Called Off

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17 (AP).—The 15-round bout between N.B.A. Lightweight Champion Juan Zurita, of Mexico, and John Thomas, Los Angeles negro, is off.

The fight was scheduled for February 27 and Zurita's title would have been at stake, but Thomas was drafted into the army last week.

Zurita's status is up in the air, for the N.B.A. has notified him he must defend his crown by February 27 or forfeit it. Matchmaker Babe McCoy is puzzled about a replacement for Thomas, but might get Bob Montgomery, recognized in New York as the champion.

Montgomery is stationed with the army in Arizona and has been inactive as a boxer for five months.

Dutton Finds One Reason For Assists

MONTREAL, Jan. 17 (CP).—President Mervin (Red) Dutton has discovered what perhaps is the reason—one reason, anyway—why National Hockey League scorers have been [illegible] should be in the awarding of assists on goals.

Thumbing through the rule book, Mr. Dutton found the only guidance it provided for scorers was this paragraph:

"When a player scores a goal, an assist shall be credited to any player taking part in the play leading up to the scoring of the goal. Not more than two assists can be given on any one play."

The league chief found no scoring directions had been printed in the rule book since 1939.

So little wonder, he mused, that scorers had gone on a slight rampage and were giving two assists on rebounds, and even two assists when a defending player kicked the puck into his own net.

"Only one assist shall be allowed if a goal is scored on a rebound off the person of the defending goaler.

"If the puck shall strike the person of any other defending player, and a goal shall be scored thereafter without aid of any other attacking player, no assist shall be given."

For many years he had been secretary of the Canadian Olympic committee.

Former manager of the Winnipeg Monarchs hockey team, Mr. Marples became later secretary of the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association, a position which led him to the office he was holding at the time of his death.
